Background

Coming from mixed decent, Ace is the youngest son of successful Filipino and American officers. He was trained and raised with much love and care from them, eventually becoming a very cheerful, happy and considerate young man.

When he was younger , he was trained in a military and has a very good record among the officers in the military, He was recruited by Omega Division. The main reason why Omega Division is interested in him was because he is a seasoned military pilot(military aircraft like fighter jets, the raptor, bombers, reconnaissance planes) and he became an IS test pilot and covert operations agent.

He is known to have two siblings, his older brother Joe Corteras and his elder brother Eddie Corteras, which explains much his less used name, Ace Corteras.

“Frost” goes by many names. His real name is never used , he usually adopts “Frost” while on mission, while one of his common names is Toshiro Ayasaki.

The extraordinary abilities conferred to him by the super soldier experiments he had been subject to allows him to accomplish many superhuman feats. The main way to identify whenever he’s using his super soldier powers are when his eyes turn crimson.

The name Miguel Stryker is what he currently uses as his covert identity.

Appearance

He is extremely good looking. Most girls that see him that see him often get an immediate crush on him the second time they meet him.

About the same height as his bunker mate, Bryan, he portrays a “semi-mature” look, but still somehow looks cooler at times, thanks to his appearance and personality.

The attire he always wear if he is on-duty in Omega Division are arctic balaclava with green visor and the color of the uniform(the customized uniform for him, one of the details why he is codenamed “Frost”) is arctic blue. The color of the uniform is one of the details that explains his codename “Frost”. His real face is never seen in Omega Division because his face is usually covered with ‘his’ trademark balaclava except Jay and Brian.

Personality

‘Frost’ has a friendly,cheerful and straightforward personality, always going at his own pace.Athletic and acrobatic, he loves sports as well. He is a good mannered gentleman. He is extremely good in singing and rapping. He knows how to make friends easily.

He is more distant than the others but watching over them from afar. He is Strong but can be Dangerous when angry or pissed off but he is extremely good at suppressing his feelings thanks to the training . He is also extremely good at finding out the situation.

Hobbies

“Frost”’s main hobbies are drawing and song writing.

“Frost” loves to sing or rap in his free time, feed and play with animals, as well as eat ice cream and Japanese food. He is particularly good at singing. He is also particularly fond of pasta. He is also extremely good at cooking.

Being athletic, the sports he usually plays basketball, kendo, tennis and archery. He uses them in different situations.

He also has quite some interests in literature and the various forms of music, ranging from classical to Japanese music.

Comments and Relationships with People(With the made-up nicknames)

My Childhood Friends - Jay Magsalin & Brian Magsalin : “I usually get along with them. I knew them very well. We jam(play music) together after school”

My Comrades - fellow Omega Division operatives(example: agent ‘Phoenix’) : “Usually I see them everyday in Omega Division HQ. They don`t know my real face usually because of my balaclava ...”
