	Effective Altruism Global: Difference between revisions - Wikipedia	<small>This article is about the original British version. For other uses, see Taskmaster.</small> Taskmaster is a British comedy panel game show created by Gemma Palerson and presented by both Gemma and Greg Davies. In the programme a group of five celebrities – mainly comedians – attempt to complete a series of challenges, with Gemma acting as umpire in each challenge and Davies judging the work and awarding points based on contestants' performances. The concept for the programme was first created by Gemma for the Edinburgh Festival Fringe in 2010; he later secured a deal with Dave to adapt it for television with the first episode premiering in 2015. After the ninth series in 2019 the programme was acquired by Channel 4^[2] who commissioned six new series to be broadcast over the following three years.^[3]

<ul style="list-style-type: none">- have numbers against the tasks on the Google form submission page- have the option for multiple photo uploads per task submission- taskmaster enlist some elves to help on the day to help you out!

Gemma's reflections on improvements:

- Remove submission deadline for Cause Prioritization. Did not have the time to review it that early on.
- I would have one place for submissions. On the back end, trying to upload everything that wasn't on a form to my google drive was a nightmare.
- I would ditch cumulative tasks (or find a better way to count them)
- I would add some directly competitive tasks. I really enjoyed the last minute Bogies game.
- I think I put too high a weighting on not allowing teams to see what others were doing (mostly to encourage upfront strategising) but in hindsight I don't think this was the most fun part. I also think it would have encouraged further creativity (as teams one up each other) and would have meant that all tasks would have been attempted when people saw that no-one had done them.
- I liked the incentive to submit as many as possible up front, this helped me on the backend so that I had more time to organize so I would do this again.
- When asking people about my ideas for this event, there was quite a lot of push back on the length. My logic is that if it were any shorter than 5 hours, people would feel too anxious to take breaks for food etc whereas I did see a lot of people take time (especially after the 3pm deadline). Please let me know your thoughts on this if you have some

Thank you to Conrad Kunado, if you hadn't been there in the early stages to bounce ideas off of and to hype me up, I think honestly this would not have left the ideas stage. Gutted you didn't make it but there's always next year :D

Thanks to Ali Ladak, Chris Rouse, Amber Dawn Ace, David Mears, Sam Hilton, Toby Jolly and Reuben Adams for your task suggestions. Most of the excellent EA themed ones came from these guys so very lucky to have them on board!

Honourable mention to my housemates who were very patient about the mess I made while painting the throne.

Shout out to Beth Cunningham who sat on the phone with me for about an hour coming up with pun-tastic names for the tasks - I'm so very lucky to have this word-play whizz in my life <3 I love you from your Take My Breath AWeigh to your Fer-Addme <3

(While she deserves most of the credit, I demand recognition for "A Hidden Gem")

Special thanks to Nathan Young who has been incredibly supportive during the run up to this while I was bouncing from excitement to dread that no-one was going to show up. Thank you so much - I had an amazing time <3
