

Talking points from Ali regarding donors who are asking why the checks haven't been cashed yet:

- We do have a regular cadence of going to the bank every two to three weeks in line with other nonprofits locally.
- We are serving a very high volume of tenants administering $150,000 in emergency rental assistance each month. About $90,000 of that is from private donors.
- As with most nonprofits our size, we do maintain at least three months of operating cash in the bank in case of emergency, so that's why we are not needing to deposit donations every single week.
