Unfortunately, my sister and I have decided to stop 😢.

We sell the latest collection of our dresses with discounts of up to 70%. It took us a long time to create the collection and the customer service that goes with it, but unfortunately, running an online store isn't that easy.

Bad publicity, unsold stock and a depleted bank account left us no choice but to stop making dresses for good. My family and I feel defeated because, despite our best efforts, we can't make a profit from this wonderful collection. If you're still looking for elegant, comfortable dresses, handmade with love and craftsmanship, this is your chance to buy them at a fraction of the normal price.

The collection will disappear in the next few days, if not sooner, depending on how quickly we deplete our stocks. Take advantage of this opportunity while the collection is still available.

To speed up de-stocking, we're also offering free delivery in London.

It is with mixed feelings that we share this important announcement with you today. After careful consideration, my husband and I have decided to close our online store. It is not a decision we have taken lightly, but we believe it is time for a change.

As part of this change, we want to offer our beloved fall collection with discounts of up to 80%. We've been working hard on our store for the past few years, but now it's time to focus on what's most important to us: our family, especially our beloved grandchildren.

The road to running an online store has not been without challenges. As small business owners, we've done everything we can to satisfy our customers, but it became increasingly difficult to stay afloat. Despite our efforts, we haven't received the support we hoped for, and that has led us to this decision.

We will be closing our shop for the next few weeks and enjoying time with our family. Our grandchildren are growing up fast and we want to share every moment with them.

This is a unique opportunity to get your hands on some of our unique clothes before they disappear forever. Don't miss this chance to get our beloved products at incredible discounts!
