Profile Summary

I'm Mohammad Fickry Pratama, a professional with over 4+ years of experience in shipping, logistics, and warehouse operations. I'm accustomed to handling loading and unloading, checking delivery notes, packing, stocktaking, and ensuring distribution runs smoothly and accurately according to company procedures. In addition to my operational experience, I also have an interest in information technology, particularly web development and database management. I'm currently pursuing a degree in Information Technology to develop my technical skills in programming and information technology.
