

Subject: most caring

Hello [prospect],

Your dedication to animal well-being is truly a blessing.

By making sure every possible donation goes to organizations that care for the neglected, abused, and abandoned animals

I've been looking around on your landing page and I realized you do not have a newsletter

So I've carefully prepared a newsletter template where people can receive a before and after picture of the dogs they have truly helped, designed to share updates and amplify the meaning and compassion for your mission.

“To protect animals by helping organizations who are engaged in protecting, sheltering and caring for abandoned, neglected and abused animals.

We accomplish this by serving as a portal for your tax deductible donations. Whether with cash or through gently used items such as clothing, furniture, small working appliances, jewelry, books, accessories, cars, etc., which in turn are sold from our stores and the proceeds are then passed on to these organizations”.

I'm honored to share this template with you and would love to have a meaningful dialogue during a Zoom call.

There is no rush so when you do come up with some free time my email is [email] and just shoot me some dates and times that work for a call

With care,
