

Cambodia Youth Internet Governance Forum 2024 “Youth Pioneering a Resilient Digital Society”

Date: Saturday 2nd - Sunday 3rd, November, 2024

Time: 8:00 am to 5:00 pm

Venue: Cambodia-Korea Cooperation Center (CKCC), Phnom Penh, Cambodia

Background:

The Cambodia Youth Internet Governance Forum (YIGF Cambodia) was first introduced by Open Development Cambodia (ODC) in 2023. Recognized by the United Nations Internet Governance Forum (IGF), this annual event serves as an open platform for Cambodian youth to engage in Internet governance discussions. It aims to empower young leaders to ensure their voices are heard in shaping the digital future.

This year, YIGF Cambodia will be held over two days, from November 2-3, 2024. The event will feature a combination of in-person and online activities to maximize participation and engagement. Participants will have the opportunity to discuss pressing issues related to Internet governance with other youth leaders from Cambodia and experienced speakers from the various stakeholders.

Purposes of the Cambodia Youth Internet Governance Forum:

- 1) Raise Awareness: Educate youth on Internet governance issues like digital privacy, cybersecurity, and empowering them to be informed digital citizens.
- 2) Encourage Participation: Provide opportunities for youth to interact with policy-makers and stakeholders on the issue of Internet governance.
- 3) Promote Multi-stakeholder Approach: Foster collaboration and dialogue between governments, civil society, the private sector, and technical experts.
- 4) Ensure Safe and Inclusive Internet: Empower youth to voice their opinions and concerns regarding Internet-related issues in particularly in ensuring transparency and accountability.

Participants

The Cambodia Youth and Internet Governance Forum will gather at least 200 participants from a variety of backgrounds, including policymakers, Indigenous youth groups, people with disabilities, women and LGBTQI+.

Organizers:

Judge Mr. KongDiep, Ms. Cheng Ousa Dr. Ly Rottana (Confirm)

Open Development Cambodia Organization (ODC) is the leading open data platform in Cambodia, which makes up-to-date and reliable data and information on socioeconomic and environmental issues publicly available as a “one-stop shop”. ODC promotes the use of accurate data for evidence-based and transparent decision-making processes towards the sustainable development of the country. For the past ten years, ODC has actively worked to enhance the amount of public data, raise public awareness, and build capacity of relevant stakeholders. ODC uses its expertise in data and ICT, mapping and GIS, digital security, and research to compile, analyze, and disseminate information in user-friendly and accessible digital formats. Material available on ODC’s online platform includes datasets, information topic pages, interactive maps, news, and legal documents, among others. ODC does not promote any particular perspective, agenda, or bias other than to provide objective information about Cambodia and its development. In 2023, Open Development Cambodia (ODC) introduced YIGF to Cambodian youth for the first time. It aimed to raise the awareness of youth on Internet governance discourse and to encourage the young generation to have more active engagement in policy discussion and the decision-making process. The forum allows youth, technological professionals, policymakers, and experts to share knowledge and to make positive changes in information sharing and internet safety, in addition to that is for them to understand their role in future society.
