

CTLE Learning Continuity Project | Quality Matters Standards 2.3 & 2.4

This document is intended to provide support for further exploration of the resources discussed in the video.

I. Quality Matters (QM) Higher Education Course Design Rubric

As of AY 2021-2022, the UHD CTLE recommends using the Quality Matters Higher Education Rubric for review and improvement of online courses.

⊕ Current QM Rubric

II. Quality Matters Website Sign-Up

Signing up for a free membership on the Quality Matters website can give you access to many resources including additional annotations for their rubric.

⊕ QM Website

III. ASU Learning Objectives Builder

Use the Arizona State University (ASU) free Online Objective Builder Tool to write learning objectives that describe the specific knowledge, skills, or abilities students will be able to demonstrate.

⊕ ASU Learning Objective Builder Tool

IV. Quality Matters Standard 2.4 Additional Examples

There are several ways to meet this standard and two additional examples are provided. The Quality Matters website provides examples for this standard and others in their showcase of best practice.

⊕ Western Kentucky University Example

⊕ Davenport University Example

⊕ QM Showcase of Best Practice