ALL-AMERICA AND ALL-REGION AWARDS

The United Soccer Coaches administers an extensive awards and recognition program which includes Coach of the Year, All-America, long-term service and special recognition awards designed to recognize excellence in soccer, academics and service to the game. In all, nearly 11,000 awards are presented by the United Soccer Coaches each year. These awards and recognition are available only to United Soccer Coaches member coaches and their players. The climax of the United Soccer Coaches Awards Program occurs at the annual United Soccer Coaches Convention, where a number of the awards are announced.

These awards are presented to both male and female players. In states where the competitive season is in the fall, the players are recognized in January at the annual United Soccer Coaches Convention. No

To be eligible for All-America and/or All-Region consideration, players first must be selected by their respective state through a recognized coaches' selection program. Each state is awarded a specific number of slots on the All-America and All-Region teams based on the number of coaches that are current United Soccer Coaches members.

*All awards are based on individual membership. Therefore, the coach of any member institution must be an United Soccer Coaches member in order for either the coach or the school to be recognized.
