Are USA Wrestling & USA Bracketing the same thing = No

No, a USA Wrestling login is not the same as a USA Bracketing login, although the two accounts are linked and can be connected. You can create a USA Bracketing account from scratch or link it to your existing USA Wrestling membership ID for easier access and benefits.

- USA Wrestling: This is the organization and membership system for wrestling athletes, coaches, and clubs.
- USA Bracketing: This is the official tournament management and bracketing software used by USA Wrestling for its events.
- The Link: To use USA Bracketing, you need to create a separate account on its website (usabracketing.com), but you have the option to use your existing USA Wrestling ID to either create a new account or link it to an existing USA Bracketing profile. This linkage allows you to access benefits like free text alerts for some memberships.
