

SC actually told me what their issue was with Discord, here it is:

So once, SC was walking down a street IRL when OUT OF NOWHERE SUDDENLY this guy showed up and he was like "Hey are you Southern Corn?" and SC was like "No, I'm Socot you frickin' idiot if you call me that again I'll paint you Donald Trump's exact skin tone." "Okay, sorry," the weird man said, "I just came to show you this new chat service called Discord. You seem like onna dem bois with lotsa discord in their heart, so I think you could benefit from a brand new start." SC was pretty angry now at this guy's presumptuous manner, so they shouted "ok" and then downloaded it on their laptop which was on the street for some reason.

So then they logged in and joined some general gaming server. The weird man logged in too and they started looking around. SC got to talking and was having a dandy old time when they got kicked out of the server. They messaged the mod and was like "what why lol" and then the mod said "because ur a butt ekks dee" SC tried to get their place on the server back by sneaking into the mod's house and killing him, but they stepped on the mod's cat by accident and it freaked the heck out and cut their arm off with its razor sharp claws! SC screamed for like an hour but the mod was too busy watching inappropriate anime videos to hear anything, so SC was still in the clear.

They climbed up the stairs with the cat in hand, and made their attack. Unfortunately when they did the mod's head exploded. HE WAS A BALLOON! SC turned as quickly as a fast-moving thing and saw the mod behind them. He fired a gun straight at SC's face, but blocked it with the cat. Then they said, "Hey, man, unban me from that server or I'll SERVER you a tasty knuckle sandwich!" The mod saw that they were serious so he made a deal with them. SC would get to go back into the server and become co-mod, but only if they bought the mod some food at Arby's. SC obliged, but they slipped some poison into the mod's curly fries and took the server for themself!

Things went fine after that, but then some guy started posting a copypasta about some user named "WubbaLubInMyButt" who was stealing people's IP's. SC thought it was fake, but then their IP was stolen! SC sent WubbaLubInMyButt a message asking about it. Wubba sent him back a suspicious link. Hoping to fulfill his Risky Click of the Day quotient, SC clicked it, only to discover a rickroll. SC knew they were in danger here, and had to tread carefully. So, they started talking to Wubba about his life. Wubba told them about how his parents kicked him out of his house cause he was gay, and so he was forced to steal IP's for some guy in order to get money. SC felt sorry for the lad, so they used their influence to get the kid into Jeremy Slezak International High School. After that, things started looking up for Wubba, and SC thought their job was complete.

Unfortunately, things weren't over for SC at all... It all started when they got a Cluedo card in the mail. It was the card for Miss Scarlet, with a strange series of numbers and letters written on the front with a glitter pen. SC quickly realized it was a Discord server code, and they found themself joining the Ace Attorney Discord server. Socot was frightened by what they saw.

Everyone was arguing. Apparently someone had posted an offensive term, which, after an argument, had caused him to be banned and a few more beloved members to leave. But the person who was banned had only used one word, so arguments persisted as to rather he deserved being banned, as everyone mourned the departure of two of their friends. Using his super skills, Socot tracked down the users who left, and convinced them to return. Eventually, the banned user returned as well, and SC kept everyone calm. Then it turned out he was a butt, so he got banned anyway. Still, SC's job was complete.

As the weeks went on, SC got five more cards, taking them to even more servers. The Colonel Mustard card led SC to a channel for a YouTube show, where SC discovered that a victim of personal identity leakage had actually invited the so-called culprit to the server himself for attention! Mr. Green led him to a voice-acting server that had stopped voice-acting, so SC got everything up and running again. Mrs. Peacock showed him the blob emoji server, where SC helped prevent the server from getting shut down due to its high population. The Professor Plum card took him somewhere else idk I'm running out of ideas. Finally, on Mrs. White's server, SC settled a dispute between two teams of moderators, with the fate of the server hanging in the balance...

After that, SC thought they were done. They were wrong. One more card arrived in the mail, the Cluedo Joker. On it was the last server ID. SC quickly logged in, and found that they were back on their own server. A user named "Cluedo Joker" suddenly sent them a PM which read "Take a midnight jog down the avenue of home." SC immediately knew what he meant. Taking the card with him, they jogged down to the IRL street where they first learned of Discord, and when they arrived, they saw someone in a hooded coat standing under a streetlight. The person stepped out of the shade, said something like, "Hey, Socot. ...See, I got it first try this time."

Before the man stepped out and took off the hood, SC recognized him. IT WAS THE WEIRD MAN FROM THE BEGINNING OF THE STORY WHO DISAPPEARED FOR NO REASON! SC looked him dead in the eyes like a child in an /r/ThatHappened story, and said, "It was you?! Why the [Expletive censored; this is a Christian server, so NO SWEARING!] were you sending me those cards!" The strange man explained, "It was to teach you a lesson, Socot. Remember when I said you had a lot of Discord in your heart?" He stepped out of the way, revealing a full length yoga class mirror. "Well, look at yourself. Do you now?" SC considered the question, but they were like,

"NO WAY, JOSE! In fact, it looks like your plan FAILED. Because after all that BC I had to deal with, I think my heart has even MORE Discord! In fact, I'd go as far as to call myself the ULTI-SL CHAOS!!!!1" Then SC pulled out a gun and shot a bullet at the weird man. He dodged and said, "You missed me lol" but then it bounced off a fire hydrant and hit him in the butt. The weird man shouted, "YOU MONSTROUS MOBSTER! THIS IS IT FOR YOOOOOOUUU!" Then he charged at SC, and the Top 10 Anime Battle was on!

The weird man attacked with some thingerinos, while SC fought with their CHAOS POWERS. The two of them were flyin' around and destroying buildings and stuff, like Goku and Vegemite in a thumb war. The weird man picked SC up and threw them around, while SC shot chaos balls at the weird man's foot. At one point the weird man shot SC fifteen times on the roof of a building and kicked them over the edge, where they smashed their head on a flower box, got quickscoped by some snotty kid with a slingshot through an apartment window, and landed on an oil tanker which exploded. They survived. Then SC and the weird man stopped to get a bite to eat at Arby's. SC tried to poison his curly fries, but it turned out that the man had developed an immunity to the poison, like that old farmhand of yore! The fight continued, as the weird man retaliated with a sport and poked out SC's eye. The eye gained sentience and laser-shooting powers, and joined SC in the fight. And so, the battle continued on for twelve hours, until SC finally vanquished their foe by throwing the Cluedo Joker card so accurately that it cut off his head, killing him instantly!

After the battle, SC stood over their defeated foe. The weird man looked up at SC, and whispered something. SC kneeled down to hear. The weird man continued, "You may think you've won, but you've really lost! During the battle, I used my Google glasses to hack into your computer and your phone! Now if you dare to open the Discord app again, your family's heads will explode! What do you think of that, Mr. Chaos Man?!"

SC, filled with rage, kicked the weird man's head into the Sun, and he died. Their foe defeated, SC walked back home, "Boulevard of Broken Dreams" playing in the background two octaves too high. From then on, SC brought chaos into as many forum games as they could to fulfill his destiny, but, to protect their family, they would never go on Discord again...