Please provide rationalization and insight into the family hardship and the ability to cover the remaining balance of fees:

My husband and I don't work. The income we had coming in, has been drastically cut. We really don't have enough money for groceries (mostly hit pantries to help make ends meet and still barely make it.) I'm scraping money up to go to concerts and still may not be able to make the concerts. Just enough money to pay current bills and rent. We signed him up because he loves signing and to give him incentive to do well in school.
