March

In art, we're kicking off a special celebration for Women's History Month!

This month, we will be focusing on the incredible contributions of female artists throughout history. We are doing this in a fun and interactive way—March Madness-style!

Here's how it works: We'll be exploring different works of art by female artists and voting on our favorites in a bracket format. Each class will look at and discuss new pieces of artwork, and then we'll vote as a school to decide which artwork gets the most votes to move to the next round. At the end of the month, the winner will be crowned the favorite piece of art from our whole school!

In addition to learning about these amazing artists, we are also going to surprise students with a “think outside the box” challenge. This will help them think more creatively and critically when looking at and appreciating art.

We are so excited to celebrate these inspiring women and their contributions to the world of art.
