

Grammar Review!

What's wrong with these sentences? How can you fix them?

Directions: For each sentence below, underline the mistake in the sentence, explain the mistake, and then rewrite the sentence with correct grammar.

1. He was angry at his brothers for excluding him, however he eventually forgave them.
2. You would not believe the insanity of these clowns; but maybe you would believe you are a little nutty yourself.
3. October is a really difficult month but he liked July.
4. Their parents were angry at them for leaving the house without doing their chores, lying about it, and when they forgot to close the gate, the dog ran away and was hit by a car.
5. She was really tired of people telling her to paint happy rainbows and smiling unicorns hence she painted storms and frowning unicorns.

Grammar Review!

What's wrong with these sentences? How can you fix them?

Directions: For each sentence below, underline the mistake in the sentence, explain the mistake, and then rewrite the sentence with correct grammar.

1. He was angry at his brothers for excluding him, however he eventually forgave them.
2. You would not believe the insanity of these clowns; but maybe you would believe you are a little nutty yourself.
3. October is a really difficult month but he liked July.
4. Their parents were angry at them for leaving the house without doing their chores, lying about it, and when they forgot to close the gate, the dog ran away and was hit by a car.
5. She was really tired of people telling her to paint happy rainbows and smiling unicorns hence she painted angry storms and frowning unicorns.