

Dr. Adrian Mancheno is the Chief Medical Officer at Piedmont Health, where he leads clinical transformation efforts to enhance patient care quality, safety, and effectiveness. With over a decade of healthcare leadership experience, Dr. Mancheno has dedicated his career to serving underserved populations and improving community health outcomes.

Dr. Mancheno completed his medical degree at Pontifical Catholic University of Ecuador and his Family Medicine Residency at the Mountain Area Health Education Center (MAHEC) in North Carolina. His diverse clinical background spans primary care, HIV treatment coordination, and healthcare management across both outpatient and hospital settings.

As a bilingual physician, Dr. Mancheno brings valuable cultural competency to healthcare delivery, having conducted research on providing culturally sensitive care to diverse communities. Throughout his career, Dr. Mancheno has consistently focused on expanding access to quality healthcare for vulnerable populations, making him a valuable voice in discussions about equitable healthcare delivery and clinical excellence.

88 Vilcom Center Dr, Suite 110
Chapel Hill, NC 27514

919.933.8494
piedmonthealth.org

