

Futanari System Chapter 358: Jackpot?

It was time, it was a time that I had not been expecting, but I found myself anticipating, and I had an obscene amount of points, and it was time to cash them in. Or so I hoped, since the lottery was something that did whatever the hell it wanted without care.

So I took a moment with a pulse of excitement growing. I wanted some of the things that I got when I was younger. Those seemed to be the most amazing things that I have ever received. That of the Race upgrade and the much more subtle Sexual Tyrannosaurus. The second was the very thing that gave me the sexual stamina that had the Race of Succubi absolutely enamored by me. It gave me unending sexual energy, which they needed in their life and rationed for children.

Honestly, I was still not a hundred percent sure how things worked with Sexual energy with the Succubus and Incubus population.

I shook my head, changing my attention to the pressing moment. I brought up my status again, and I looked at the system points carefully. I would purchase those uncommon lottery tickets, and if I was going to do it, I would do it in an amount that might unlock something else, and I took a deep breath. I shook my head, then looked at the cost again.

Lottery

10 Spin Tickets available

1000 - Spin ticket

10000 - Uncommon Spin Ticket

This was going to be expensive. One hundred uncommon tickets would be one million points, which made this VERY expensive. But if I were going to do this, should I go all out? I unlocked the Uncommon lotto tickets by purchasing a hundred at the same time, so it makes sense that I would need to purchase one thousand at the same time for the next tier. Or maybe that was not what pushed me over, but the amount that I purchased over time.

I took a deep breath. I did not know which it was, but the problem was that this was the moment to make the choice, and I decided to move forward and purchased a hundred Uncommon Spins at the same time.

A million points gone, like that, which literally was ten prega-

I cut that thought off right there and then. This system already made me a horrible person, although blaming the System was stupid. It was what it was, and I was the one choosing to use it. It was a tool, just like a gun or Mana. I used it as I willed it to, and the choices were mine. The number of children I have or have not had is entirely of my own choosing.

I took a deep breath, looking at it, and I closed my eyes for a moment, not knowing how to feel. My mood had shifted from the disgust I felt at the filth pit of my experiments, and I was forced to look at myself for who I was. For the amount of pure breeding I do on a day-to-day basis with consenting women.

It was troubling how INSANE it was, and I felt the grim reminder of what I had been doing these days at me at this point. There was nothing I could do about it, and I shoved the thoughts aside with the cost of how the points came to be. I had them; the women liked them, and I would continue to do it. For the future of my children and my country. For more kids out there that are not my own and the Beast-kin.

All of those felt like excuses at this moment, and I shook myself hard. It was harder to push aside the self-deprecating thoughts today after this purchase than normal, and I wanted to yell at myself.

Then something broke my train of thought as I noticed the lack of a new message, and I sighed. Surprise was not what I was feeling at this moment, and I wondered if I should save up for a thousand tickets at the same time or just purchase them in batches of a hundred.

Don't think about how that was just over nine thousand women to impregnate. The stupid part was that I was on my way to that number, and it was numbing thinking about it. I just- I just couldn't think about that. I did not need nor want to think about it, and I turned to the mass spinner.

My eyes widened as I looked at the results, and it was MUCH better than the first round, yet still overwhelming. But not at the same time. I sucked in a breath, and I had no idea if this was a jackpot or not. I opened my status, and I looked at two new spins that made my eyes widen, and I wondered if I should wait or use them immediately.

Enhancements. I remembered my first and only one that I could think about at the moment, and what it meant to Succubi. I had just been thinking about enhancements, and now I had a chance at a Rare Enhancement to my body and an Uncommon one, and I felt like losing three-quarters of the spins was worth it just for these two things. It felt like I both won and lost at the same time, and my eyes were peeled to those two things.

Not the fact that it was confirmed that there were rare lotto tickets. No, that was something I already guessed with the Uncommon and Supreme Tickets. I might not be able to purchase them, but I could stumble upon them in the system.

No, it was the fucking two enhancements, and my eyes could not wander, and I wondered.

Was this a Jackpot?

Should I use them now?

A knock interrupted my thoughts, and I looked up and, without thought, said, "Yes?"

"You have an appointment with Succubi women who are waiting, Supreme Commander," I heard my guard outside say. I got up, my mind racing, but I would think about it later and set this benefit aside. At least this time, I did not just get fucking sex shit that I have no real use for.

Not that I didnt have a use for that sex stuff. Just no time to use it.

A chuckle came out of me as I went to enjoy myself, set aside my worries, and felt my stress lifting already.

At least the million points were not a waste.
