- My proposition...

Subject line: My Simple But Prosperous Proposition...

Hey Anthony

Here's the catch,

I am new to copywriting and marketing, although I imagine you have been able to conclude that already through the free value I sent you.

So I present a proposition

No charge

No sales call

No upsells

A simple but beneficial agreement for both you and I

It's simple...

I work for you free of charge!

The Barbell Base has room for major growth and I want to help you scale beyond the limits of your perceived potential

Now you might be thinking "I don't have time for this" Well that's where I agree with you.

You don't have time for this!

That's why I will help you grow your business through the use of sales funnels. Not only does this benefit me in getting quality practise

But as for you, no time will be taken out of your demanding role as a business owner

And if my advertisements and emails perform well, that means you will be pulling in new potential customers which we can convert into lasting customers.

All I ask in return?

A solid review of my work, only if it meets your true expectations

This is a simple transaction

You say yes and I will be on my way to helping your get results

So are you interested?
