Provide a general synopsis of what the course/activity covered/contained.

Artificial intelligence and the data revolution are here! But how can we leverage their power to transform the AEC industry? In this session, BST Global Chief Executive Officer Javier A. Baldor will examine how these innovations can help foster the data-driven consultancy of the future. Specifically, Javier will discuss a digital-first strategy that centers on three core tenets:

- Embracing breakthrough innovations, like GenAI, through education and action
- Becoming a data-driven firm by defining a holistic big data strategy
- Investing in AI and machine learning to gain predictive, project-based insights
