

Privacy Policy for ForceDrop Case Advisor

ForceDrop Case Advisor ("we", "our", or "the extension") is committed to protecting your privacy.

- 1. Data Collection The extension does not collect, store, transmit, sell, or share any personal information, user data, or browsing history.
- 2. How the Extension Works The extension operates entirely locally on your device. It uses the `activeTab` and host permissions strictly to read the item prices displayed on the active ForceDrop webpage in order to calculate the total profit. This data is processed locally in your browser and is never sent to any external servers.
- 3. Third-Party Services The extension does not use any third-party analytics, tracking services, or remote code.
- 4. Contact If you have any questions or concerns about this Privacy Policy, please contact the developer via the Chrome Web Store contact form.
