

Ross Caputi

“I am a former Marine and combat veteran. I participated in the second siege of Fallujah, one of the bloodiest operations of the entire occupation of Iraq. This has become the focus of my antiwar and solidarity work. I’m the main author of The Sacking of Fallujah: A People's History (2019) and the Director of the documentary film Fear Not the Path of Truth (2014). I’m currently an adjunct instructor at Fitchburg State University and the Director of Archives at Archive Iraq.”

Read what North Carolina community college students wrote about Ross’s presentation to their class.

Watch a video of Ross’s presentation to North Carolina community college students.