

EarthDance Field Trips

At the EarthDance Organic Farm School, it is our goal to educate members of the St. Louis community about organic farming and gardening. Field Trips are a great way to introduce students and youth learners alike to the concepts of food production. Participants will see all parts of the farm and have plenty of time to ask questions. Each EarthDance Field Trip includes a walking & tasting tour of our historic farm, including education in our pollinator front yard, Seven Generation garden, greenhouse & hoop houses, 1.2 acre vegetable production fields, and our permaculture orchard. Students will learn their food's journey from field to plate and how they can grow it themselves!
