“BullTradeFinder” and/or its officers, directors, owners, managers, affiliates, and control persons (collectively referred to as the “Publisher”) have been compensated to publish favorable information (the “Information”) about publicly traded companies, referred to individually as an “Issuer” or collectively as the “Issuers,” listed on the NASDAQ Stock Exchange, New York Stock Exchange, and OTC Markets. The Information shared by the Publisher is an advertisement. Since the Publisher is compensated to share this Information, it is required by securities laws, including Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, Rule 10b-5, and Section 17(b) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), to disclose certain details about its compensation, including the nature and amount. Furthermore, state and federal securities laws’ anti-fraud provisions require the Publisher to notify you that the Paying Party and its affiliates may engage in buying or selling the Issuers’ securities before, during, or after the dissemination of the Information. The Publisher has been paid 1250 USD (before deductions for bank and PayPal fees) to publicly share information about WorkSport LTD. by Shore Thing Media LLC (NASDAQ/NYSE: WKSP), with the publication period starting on 01-22-2025 and ending on 01-22-2025. Investing in securities is inherently risky, and the Publisher is not liable for any financial outcomes, whether gains or losses, resulting from decisions made based on the opinions expressed in this communication or in other investor relations materials. Any persons affiliated with BullTradeFinder may publish future ads/campaigns for this company.

Certain information provided in this communication may contain “forward-looking statements,” which include “future-oriented financial information” and “financial outlook” under applicable securities laws. These forward-looking statements are based on current beliefs and expectations of the Company’s management regarding its business, financial performance, strategic plans, and market conditions. These statements may include, but are not limited to, projections on the Company’s financial performance, the expected use of proceeds from securities offerings, development of business and joint ventures, execution of growth strategies (including potential mergers and acquisitions), availability of financing, the completion of ongoing projects, renewal of material agreements, and future capital and liquidity requirements.

Forward-looking statements are intended to provide investors with management’s views about potential future developments, but they are not guarantees of future performance. These statements involve risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to differ significantly from projections or expectations. Investors should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, as actual results may vary due to factors beyond the Company’s control.
