DISCUSSION

An explanation of the research results, linked to the results of previous studies, analyzed critically and linked to relevant current literature. The discussion ends with the formulation of conclusions and suggestions.

CONCLUSION

It is a summary and discussion presented in the discussion of the journal contents. The conclusion is a description of the objectives that have been achieved in the research. Suggestions are a manifestation from the author to be implemented (something that has not been done and is worth implementing). Suggestions are made based on research findings intended to develop, follow up or apply research results both theoretical and practical.
