

SL: Thought you might be interested in this...

Hi ,

I saw your name on google results when I searched up local hair laser removal businesses.

Your name caught my attention and I just had to check you guys out.

I watched a couple of your reels and I really like the way you guys make your procedure so satisfying to watch. It really shows how professional your services are. No wonder your videos get really good engagement!

However I noticed that your regular posts have low engagement and I think I have something that could help with that problem...

I made 3 compelling content that I feel best resonates with your audience and increase engagement on your instagram page.

Results speak for themselves. Are you in?

With energy,

CarstenCW

I really liked one of your most recent youtube videos called "How I Became a Self-Made Millionaire in Just 5 Years". I love the books you recommended in the video like rich dad poor dad. I was really impressed by the cold advice that helped you become a millionaire. It's odd how your video doesn't have a million views!

As amazing as your videos are to learn from. It was odd that your videos don't get the engagement they deserve. I brainstormed some ideas of which I think can help with your engagement on your channel.

I created 3 juicy descriptive titles that should convey what the video is about. This will make it easier for viewers to find and click on your videos more often.

Definitely shoot me back with a text if you're in and ill happily send them over.

With energy,

Carstem