BACKGROUND: The proposed "Study Break" event is designed to foster community and promote well-being on campus by providing students with a moment of relaxation and encouragement during midterm exams.

This initiative will offer free muffins and croissants. It is scheduled to take place on Monday, February 2nd from 1pm to 2pm in the CoHo, with an expected turnout of 200 students. This event will also be a collaboration with AAC and they will also be providing free scantrons and blue books.

By offering simple acts of kindness, this event aims to promote mental wellness and remind students that they are supported by both their peers and ASUCD.
