

Jessica Valerie Sappho.

She was that weird nerdy Undertale DeviantArt Tumblr girl who made fanart back in school & stuff.

She would always yell and scream into your ear while being silly autistic ahh

Cute Girl.

Anyways covid happened and she was isolated at home without any contact from her friends.

Her little group of friends, similar to her, just forgot about her. And did not care about her anymore.

They moved on, grew up.

While at home she got into some extreme stuff online and she had a dream in which she believed she was a goddess and that the whole world is her hentai or something like that...???

So, she started a cult online and the cult accepted everyone, and is LGBTQ Friendly.

So many people joined the website and her cult that she created and soon she started living with a few of her followers and they made their own society and rules basically.

At some point she gained abilities and so she used her abilities to become stronger and also used them for some other stuff...

Soon she had a bunch of followers & married some femboys and some girls too.

She was impregnated many times by her boywives and also, She can use her abilities to give herself a penis and so using that she impregnated some of her wives and also one of her boywives as well, just... why...???

Her cult believed in love & crystals, like gemstones & magic.

She believed that love should be shown to all regardless of age, gender, height, & everything else.

She has a personality very similar to the Current Chris Chan.

Delusional and kind of very crazy...

She wears a lot of healing crystals & also wears crystals necklaces. & other crystals all over her body.

She actually adopted a very Dommy Mommy like Personality & Appearance.

She can very easily manipulate people and can also use her abilities to manipulate them and their emotions into doing things they wouldn't normally do.

She can also hypnotize and brainwash people too btw.

Ayano Okami is a part of her cult as one of her boywives.

He was actually just playing a game when one of the members noticed him on the game and so later that night, he received a knock on his door and he answered it, and nobody was there.

A few days later on a Friday He Was Kidnapped By The Cult Members.

After a while of being groomed by them & other stuff he was officially forced into the cult and quickly became one of Valerie's favorite boywife.

Valerie's children that she has with the cult members all get sent to secret locations that are most likely somewhere in... USA, Canada, UK, Ireland, Australia, New Zealand.

As those are the countries that Sappho's Cult Dominates In.

But the biggest percentage of the cult members are in the USA as that is where Sappho originally started it in.

The reason why her children are being raised secretly is that one day they maybe can take over if something were to happen to their mother Sappho?

Sappho also likes to torture and likes to mess with her members & wives & her boywives.

She can do whatever she wants to them.

Rape, kill, torture, everything.

And she can just bring them back to life using her abilities like nothing happened, to just do it all over again.

Over & Over, Over & Over, Over & Over, Over & Over Again...???

They remember what happens to them and they don't forget it.

Mommy Sappho Loves That.

Sappho became more delusional and crazier and started making a real plan to take over the world.

She believed that the whole world was evil and that only her and her family & followers/members were the only ones equipped who could fight/challenge their evil.

So, she started the production of a weapon.

It was basically a horny potion thing.

They wanted to mass produce that so that they could do something like, a terrorist act on the whole world by releasing it all over the world at the same time so that everyone in the world is horny and is under their control.

Unfortunately, it only lasts for a while/few hours before they are back to normal again.

If they are repeatedly exposed to it, then it becomes permanent.

However, there are 2 other things that can happen if they are exposed to the horny gas.

One is an extreme emotion that is unstable, the second one is basically a homicidal rage or suicide. Or in some cases, both.

I feel like at some point Ayano Okami would probably make an escape and try to tell the world of what is to come...
