Gift Cards for a Daughter: Good Gift or Just Meh?

While gift cards used to get a bad reputation as boring, impersonal gifts, data shows that gift recipients actually love unwrapping them! According to Bank of America, 96% of consumers are just as happy or more happy to receive a gift card versus a physical gift. But let's break it down in terms of what that means for your daughter.

Giving your daughter a gift card is a nice way of balancing two messages: that even when she's all grown up and out of the house, you're still there to help take care of her... but also, you support her in following her own interests and making her own choices.

Not a lot of other gifts do that!

But if you decide on going the gift card route, what are the top gift cards for women? Here's what the most recent surveys say:

1. Amazon: Not surprising considering that she can get practically anything she needs delivered to her doorstep in two days or less with Prime shipping.
2. ULTA Beauty: Aka the one stop shop for beauty and self care. Whether she wants to splurge on a designer fragrance, needs to pick up her go-to shampoo, or treat herself to a sheet mask for an evening of relaxation, she can find it at ULTA.
3. Starbucks: Help her fuel up for whatever the day ahead will throw at her, whether it's finals week, she has a big presentation at work, or simply a busy day living her life.
4. Bath & Body Works: THE ultimate destination for home fragrance, a Bath & Body Works gift card lets her upgrade her hand soaps, shop the next three-wick candle sale, or find a new personal fragrance for herself.
5. Nintendo: If your girl is a gamer, she'll always appreciate the chance to grab a new title from the Nintendo eShop.

Plus, it's easier than ever before to personalize a gift card – whether you're having them delivered by text, email, or mail. With Perfect Gift, you can create the perfect physical or digital gift card for any occasion in just a few clicks.

Jewelry + Accessories

Jewelry is a classic gift for a number of reasons, but here are a few of the big ones: it's durable, you can tailor it to her tastes, and it's not probably not something she regularly purchases for herself. You can commemorate an occasion (like getting her a class ring for her college graduation), treat her to something luxurious (like grabbing a designer piece from Swarovski or Burberry), or just help her add to her collection (by picking up something with her favorite gemstone, for example). There are so many possibilities!

Kate Spade makes a great jewelry option because it's beautiful, affordable, and classy. The pieces tend to strike a nice balance between trendy and timeless, and they're feminine without being too overstated. In short, you can find something to fit practically any young woman's style.

Home Decor for Your Daughter

Decor is a popular gift choice, but it’s also kind of a touchy subject. After all, who wants to end up with a bunch of knickknacks they don’t really want to put out gathering dust on their shelves or taking up space in their attic? No one, that’s who.

Luckily, you probably have a pretty good sense of what your daughter’s decor style is like. So here are a few tasteful and unique home decor gifts that could be the perfect addition to your daughter’s home or apartment!

Everyone loves a bouquet of fresh flowers to brighten up their space – but eventually, even the prettiest cut flowers wilt and need to be tossed out. Plus, if she has any curious cats or dogs, you need to be extra careful about choosing blooms that are pet-friendly.

That's where glass flowers like this stunning bouquet of irises come into play. They're an elegant upgrade from traditional synthetic flowers, but they last much longer than anything you'll find at the florist.

This is a gift your daughter is sure to cherish for years to come.

Is your daughter the type to always have her nose in a book? A stylish book stand like this is one of the best gifts for book lovers. Not only does it look great, it also holds her place in her current read and lets her line up her “to-be-read” (TBR) titles, too.

Cosmetics + Self Care

Self care isn't just a social media fad – it's an important way your daughter can reduce stress, boost her mood, and improve her overall mental (and physical!) health. Studies have shown that self care routines are correlated with lower anxiety levels and even decrease the risk of serious health issues like heart disease.

That's why a gift that encourages her to slow down, relax, and pamper herself a little is always a good idea!

💕 Experiences to Share

When it comes to gifts you can get for your daughter, one will always reign supreme: spending some quality time together. Here are some creative ways to turn your usual mother/daughter lunch date or dad/daughter workouts into the perfect gift!

The Adventure Challenge

Challenge yourselves to go on new adventures! Image courtesy of The Adventure Challenge.

The premise is simple: based on a simple budget + time key, scratch off different activities you and your daughter can do together! The solo edition is pictured above, but why not do them together? If you feel like taking a stroll down memory lane, you can also opt for the Family Edition, which has lots of creative activities for young families... but who's to say you can't play The Floor is Lava with your older daughter, too?

Don't forget to grab the Signature Camera to capture the memories you're making in real time!

Take a Class Together

Learn something new together when you sign up for a class.

Step out of your comfort zones! Whether it's cooking French cuisine or line dancing, planting an herb garden or fitness kickboxing, being beginners together is a great way to bond with your daughter. You'll share the entire learning journey, one step at a time.

Take a Trip Together

Spend some quality time with your daughter on a special trip you take – just the two of you!

Family vacations can be lots of fun, but instead of dividing your time up between your daughter, your other kids, and/or your spouse, consider planning a trip just the two of you to make some memories you'll never forget. If you both like the great outdoors, visit a National Park or find a cool hike a few hours away. If she's an art lover, travel to a museum that's always been on her bucket list.

You don't have to go far or take weeks off of work for this to be a meaningful gift. The simple fact that you set aside time to do something together that she'll enjoy – to be present with her, if you will – is the best present of all.

We hope this guide gives you some inspiration for finding the perfect gift for your daughter.

Good luck, and happy gifting!
