Until last year, people were not sensitive enough about their environment in our city. They were throwing garbage on the streets and nobody warned them. All the streets were full of garbage. Then we visited the mayor and started a campaign in our school and worked on the streets in the afternoons. We protested, cleaned the streets and handed out brochures for weeks. In two months, people stopped throwing rubbish and started to warn themselves. Now, our city is clean and the residents are happier.

According to the text, we cannot say that they

- A) met the authorities
- B) joined the protests
- C) collected garbage
- D) printed brochures and posters was about to hit Mississippi and Louisiana. When I got home, I checked the Internet to get specific information. I learnt that hurricane Katrina would hit on Monday morning, August 29th, 2005. By Monday morning at 6.30 a.m., Hurricane Katrina hit. There was a terrible storm. All the phone lines went dead. Nearly 3000 people, including me, had to go to the hospital because of injuries by Katrina on that day. The first floor of the hospital started flooding. The power went off. We couldn't drink the water because it was poisonous. All of a sudden, water came into the room through windows. There were bad injuries as the windows were broken and the furniture crashed into people. Outside the hospital was also terrible. All the power lines and trees were down. The trees blocked the highways. Nobody was able to pass the roads. Everybody was really terrified. I had to stay in hospital till the following Monday. It was the most terrifying and frightening week of my life.

Hi Tracey,

I am back from a long journey in two continents. They are Europe and America. I went on this journey to see the World's 5 Greenest Countries. The journey was amazing. I came back with lots of unforgettable memories and photos. Of course, everything was not perfect during the journey. I had some problems, as well. For example, I broke my left foot finger while climbing a small mountain in Switzerland. It really hurt and no one was there to give me a hand. I felt desperate at that time. After some time in the forest, I saw a beautiful hut. There was a good couple in it. They gave me a bed and took care of me for two days. When my finger was OK, I kept walking in the green
