

Dragon's Name:	Aconite Balechild
Age:	Adult
Gender:	Male
Breed:	Balespawn
Colour:	Wolfsbane
Height:	20' at the shoulder
Abilities:	Balefire Breath: The ability to spit a gout of bright green corruptive balefire. Corruption Powers: Mastery over the corruption of anything around them, organic, inorganic, and magical alike. Immortality: The cessation of physical aging upon reaching maturity and possession of eternal life thereafter. Can still be killed by lethal injuries. Realm-Travelling: Above and beyond simple teleportation, the ability to realm-travel and cross into dimensions separated from the Nexus by more than mere space and time. Shapeshifting (Human-Dragon Spectrum): The ability to shapeshift anywhere on a spectrum between their natural shape and a human form that tends to retain the coloration of their natural draconic form. Sizeshifting: The ability to change one's physical size. Telepathy: The ability to communicate mind-to-mind. Teleportation: The ability to teleport anywhere within sight or that can be strongly visualized in the mind. Toxic Moss: Their bodies are capable of growing moss-like foliage that contains their natural corruptive essences. The rashes that result from touching this moss could expand into corrupted mutations. Verbal Speech: The ability to communicate in spoken words.
Personality:	Aconite knows what he wants out of life, and that is entertainment. He is cocky, self-confident, and believes that hurt feelings are as important as tits on a flea. Life is a gift that is meant to be enjoyed, and he intends to spend every second of his own in that pursuit. He delights in risky games and dark humour. He does not apologize for his brash words. He will not settle down. The only individual that might describe him as anything other than selfish is his mate and life bond, and that is because she's as much of a snake as he is.
Dragon's Name:	Napelluth
Age:	Adult
Gender:	Female

Breed:	Death Court
Colour:	Oil-slick red
Height:	14’ at the shoulder
Abilities:	Blue fire breath, fire breath, teleportation, telepathy, poison stinger
Personality:	Crass, arrogant, self-involved, and excitable. Napelluth lives and breathes the Death Court creed, but she also yearns for adventure. She wants to dominate new worlds, kill new people, and experience all the wonders the Nexus has to offer. She believes that they are owed some expansion after being imprisoned away on the Vella Crean for so long. She is also absolutely enamoured with Aconite and considers him to be her soulmate.

Chapter 1:

Alternative images:

