

Front Page

About Niko's Behavior

Also known as

(Twitter) @nik000ooo or @bakenek0o_

(Bluesky) @nikoh-neko.bsky.social or @bakenek0o.bsky.social

During this document I will refer to them as Niko.

The reason I'm making this document is to go more in depth about what led up to the situation of November 2023 as this goes back to August 2022.

I believe people should be made aware of this as Niko's behavior shouldn't be tolerated nor repeated. These events have caused me pain and anxiety for a long time and I finally built the courage to talk about it again in more detail.

If you have your own experiences with Niko yourself, please make a document about it.

Before and During August 2022

Before and During August 2022:

Before I got in contact with Niko, I knew them through Twitter as they made art and followed them at the time. So I was surprised to see them in a random Discord Server's VC. I joined and began chatting with them. Eventually we started hanging out from time to time in DM calls while we played games and generally chatted. I even drew some art for them at one point.

However this is when he gave me permission to follow his private Twitter account, @Niko_neko. On this account Niko would post private drawings, vent, interact with some people who followed the account. However the drawings that Niko posted were either normal or suggestive (such as ass). However the more major issue was regarding who he was following and interacting with which was NSFW accounts while he was 16 at the time.

One of the accounts that was interacting with them was a NSFW account which Niko commented under one of their NSFW drawings. When I tried to bring this up to him about who he was interacting with he was dismissive about it. Saying it was just a friend and there is nothing wrong with it. I tried to bring up the counter argument about how he can still be friends with them, just don't interact with them suggestively (also as they were 11 years older than Niko) with their NSFW account as their friend has a SFW one.

Niko was still dismissive about it and started ghosting me. We stopped interacting with each other entirely after that but still added on Discord.

Note: The video was taken back in August 22, 2022.

November 2023

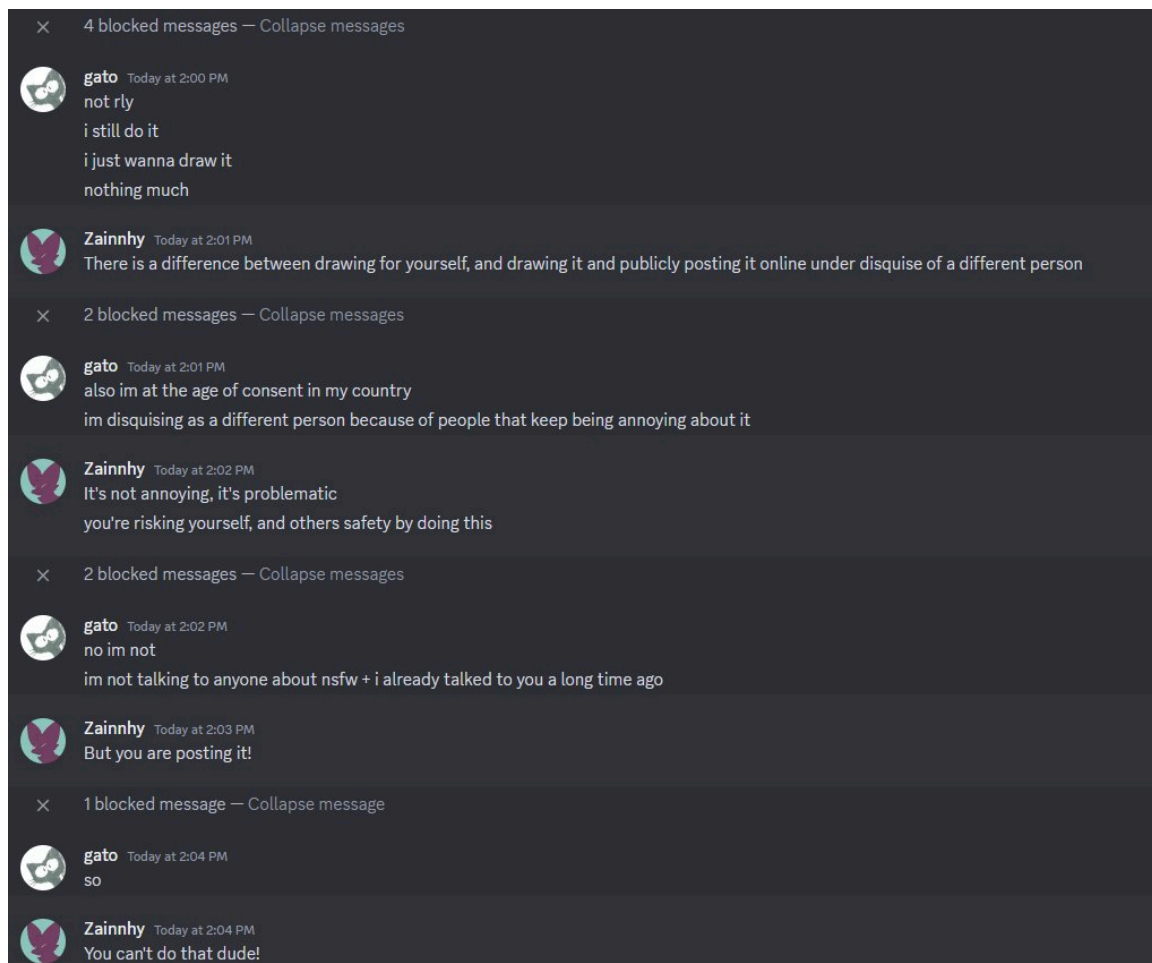

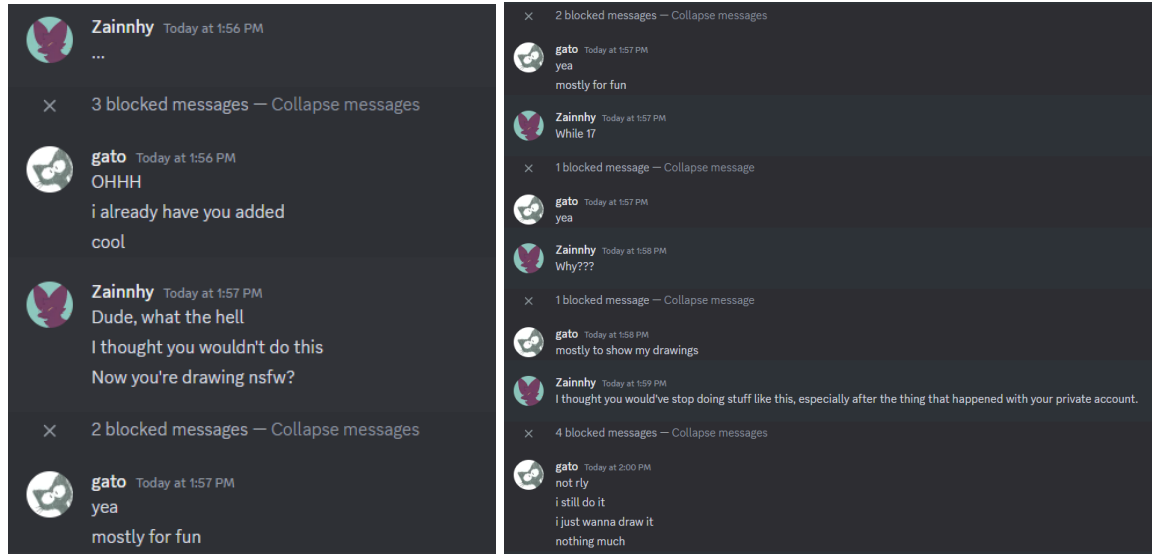

November 2023

After that whole fight with me and Niko, we didn't interact with each other for over a year. Months passed after I turned 18 years old, I made a NSFW account and started posting art and following other NSFW accounts. And one of those accounts was bakeneko. At the time, I wasn't aware this was Niko; Different art style and different OCs. So I followed them and they followed me back, in which we talked in Twitter DMs for a bit before adding each other on Discord (which his @ was nekodata). We started talking and showing art then suddenly they said "I'm not very active on this account, I can add you on the other" which they sent.

"You're already friends with this user."

It was Niko's main Discord account. The same DMs, the same argument we had, everything was there from the last time we spoke.

Upset how they're continuing this behavior and betrayed by their fake identity, I confronted them.

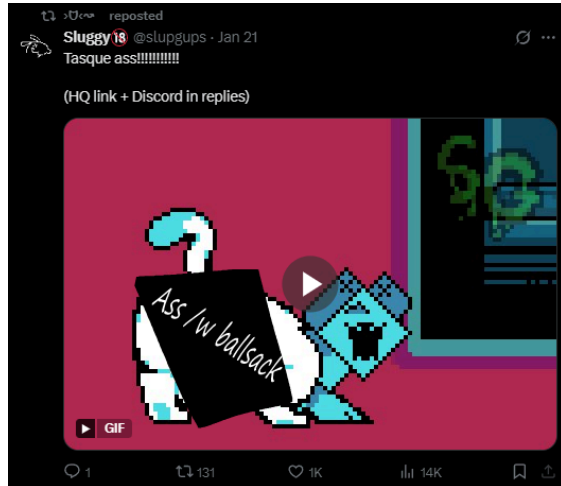

This was the end of our conversation. Which after I made the callout post on the same day although informal and not detailed.

However instead of taking accountability or addressing it, Niko private his NSFW account. Which remained private until he turned 18.

[NSFW] Since the Incident

Since the incident, Niko has devolved into a morally questionable person. As now, he's currently indulging in feral artworks, drawing it himself and interacting with people who are in the same type of content as seen below (censored).

Reposted:

Drawn:

