

Share Your Favorites
Discover You Fall 2024

Under the appropriate heading below, share your favorite resource OR something new you learned about post-high school planning from these resources.

Choosing a Career

I learned that the date the National College Fair is Saturday, October 5, 2024 11:00AM - 3:00 PM
I learned that the career I had in mind has a higher salary than I thought.
My favorite resource is Naviance.
I learned that School Links is a good resource
I learned that margeutte unvisrity is visiting our schoola
I learned about how I can use school links to find the education you need for different jobs
I learned that school links can tell you the median salary of a career
I learned that you can be a lawyer for the military
I learned that trade schools a good option

Exploring Technical Careers

Military Careers

I like the fact that I can do army part time in case I am in college

I like the fact that I can do army part time in case I am in college

Researching Colleges

I've narrowed down schools I'm interested in.

I learned that community college is a good option

I'm starting to figure out what I value in different colleges.

I've learned more about how I prefer to learn.

I learned that class sizes are important and that student-to-faculty rates is different than student-to-teacher rates

I'm starting to learn how my major affects my college choice

I figured out that in-state is the best option for me

I learned what colleges are better for my preferred major

I've figured out which colleges are right for my career interests.

I learned that COD is good for transferring into 4 year colleges.

I realized that my desired career path would have an effect on the location of schools

I found out that out-of-state colleges are expensive

I figured out what schools are best for my major

I learned that if I do the 2+2 offer offered by dupage and cod