SL- Give this a shot

This email is going to drop-shippers on Youtube

Hey (name)

Do you know what most young adults struggle with nowadays?

It's this one simple thing that technology has ruined...

This is a simple but great thing that every social media is ruining.

This one simple thing is ATTENTION.

Young adults are addicted to scrolling and only stopping on videos that interest them within the first 5 seconds. After that, if it's interesting, they keep watching.

If not, they scroll past the video...

I came across your channel while looking up other websites I can use for dropshipping besides Alibaba and aliexpress.

While going over (insert, video), I got an idea I saw on Instagram.

This idea I got came from a post about AI making NFL teams into soldiers, and it made me stop for a second and look at it because 1. It was new, and I had never seen it before 2. It was interesting to see what the AI could do, and it did an excellent job of getting me to stop scrolling. After that, I thought to myself.

WOW, if AI can do this with NFL teams, imagine what it can do with thumbnails, landing pages, and many more.

With the new addition of AI, the possibilities for entertainment and thumbnails are far from this world.

If you would like to give me your following several youtube ideas, I will create some thumbnails that will get your viewers to stop and click on the videos, and once I am finished, I will send them over to you.

Are you going to be the first to start a trend that no one has ever seen before?

In Regards

-Derek
