SL: More UMPH to Your Website!

Dear [client name]

I am an athlete who has competed at a national level. As such, I understand the importance of nutrition. I was looking at dietician websites when I came across yours.

I really love what you say on your website. Especially when you said to "cease the war against their own bodies brought on by dieting" as many people struggle with dieting.

I read through your entire website, and I was left confused as to exactly what you offer, as the description of your services was not enough for me.

I know if I struggle to understand what you offer on your website, I know that other customers will also struggle to understand your offer as well.

I rewrote how your services can be portrayed on your website as a free demo, which you can test out immediately:

Test this demo out for a week, and see it make results

We can schedule a short video call this September

Kind regards

John

Adding More Punch to Your Website - NR 3

Hello [Client Name],

I'm John, an athlete who has competed at a high level, and I understand the crucial role of proper nutrition. While browsing through dietician websites, I came across yours.

I thoroughly went through your entire website, but I found myself somewhat puzzled about the exact nature of your services. The descriptions provided didn't offer me sufficient clarity. If I, someone who values the significance of nutrition, struggled to grasp the full scope of your offerings, I can imagine that your other potential clients might encounter similar difficulties.

Given my background and understanding of the importance of nutrition in athletic performance, I believe I can assist you. I'm willing to offer a revamped version of how your services are presented on your website. This would be in the form of a free demo that you can promptly test. I suggest dedicating a week to try out this demo to gauge its effectiveness.

Should you find the demo appealing, we can then engage in a discussion to explore how I can further contribute to enhancing your website's appeal.

If you're interested, simply respond with a "yes" to this email, and I will promptly share the demo copy with you.

Best regards,

John [Company Name] (You can include or omit this based on your preference)
