

GROUNDED. SIGN POLICY

SIGNS

Independent Contractors are welcome to use Grounded provided Open House signs in accordance with the Open House Sign Policy seen here. Due to the real estate law requirements, trademark, and other laws, it is your responsibility to assure that any signs designed by you are reviewed and approved by the responsible Broker and also meet all legal requirements.

Associates must acquire signage consistent with Grounded R.E.'s Sign Formats/Design and obtain approval before using any signage not provided by Grounded R.E.

All signage must comply with advertising laws and the regulations in effect in each community. Information regarding such regulations may be obtained from Grounded R.E. Any fines incurred due to the Associate's improper use of signage will be paid by the Associate.

"Pending Sale" or similar signs may be posted, with the seller's permission, after acceptance of an offer.

If a listing agreement expires or is cancelled, a For Sale sign should not be left on the property. Such signs must be removed within two days after expiration or cancellation.
