

“They looked like a joke, but after wearing them for 7 hours, I forgot I had them on!

I had just come back from a familiar weekend day hike.

My new ‘Zero Shoes’ allowed me to feel the world.

Before I found these shoes, I was wearing cleats on a high school baseball team and literally about to go crazy.

The cleats would give me pins and needles in my heels.

It got so bad, I almost couldn’t pitch a ball.

Landing on my left foot would send shooting pains up my lower leg increasing each time.

The cleats I had for baseball season had given me tremendous discomfort and flat arches.

This experience led me on a roller coaster ride to find a shoe for arch support.

I knew there had to be a solution...

Since finding Zero Shoes...

Not only did my arches come back and all my discomfort vanish...

My feet became stronger.

Now, when I walk around with my Zero Shoes...

It’s easy to forget I am wearing them.
