

Hi <box_name>

<box_compliment>

I came across you on Facebook and put together a blueprint that can drive readers to your sales page where money changes hands.

I thought of using a human persuasion analogy that makes it easy to...

“talk” five senses, make readers mold into your content, build massive trust, turn products into irresistible offers, and “read” your customers' minds.

Here is a PDF of my latest projects that follow the same scientifically-proven analogy.

Do you want the blueprint?

All the best,
Mattias

When you said that at a young age, you begged your parents to publish an ad in the newspaper to let kids know that you're there to help them, this definitely made your audience realize how big of a heart you really have

Hi <box_name>

Just bumping up the last email to tell you that I made another project that can make you “smell” peace and relaxation...

The smell of rainy grass. If you know you know.

Want me to send it to you?

All the best,
Mattias

Hi <box_name>

Just showed my mother my last project which made her scent smell, without smelling.

To keep things short here's another project I created for you that can "talk" senses.

Now this one should [benefit / what's unique about this]

Hope you enjoy

All the best,

Mattias

Hi <box_name>

I have one thing to say for email..."Excuse me?"

Did my last three value emails get buried?

All the best,

Mattias

Hi <box_name>

I hope [business name] takes off and raises the bar even more than it has now.

It was nice getting to know your background and business.

If you don't want the email I created specifically for your niche that could make your readers rock with it, that's okay.

Have a good rest of your day

All the best,
Mattias

Here's my offer to increase traffic to your sales page where money changes hands:

- Diviner emails that read your customers' minds and address every objection they'll have – builds massive trust.
- Riveting bullet points that can “talk five senses” and make your readers mold into your content by reading words
- Turn your products into irresistible offers using highly intriguing, short emails that are packed with so much value the reader would feel stupid for not buying.

Here are my latest projects based on your niche:

Let's hop on a quick Zoom call where I'll show you my previous projects and discuss from there.

All the best,
Mattias
