Abstract [font Garamond 12; single space; Bold]

Abstract is written in English maximum 250 words. It briefly consists: purpose of the study; methodology; result(s); and conclusion.

Keywords [font Garamond, 12; single space]: Provide maximum of 5 keywords. The keywords are the key concept of the article.

1. INTRODUCTION [font Garamond 12; 1.5 space; Bold]

The article can be written in English. The body (excluding abstract and references) is written with 4000-6000 words with Garamond, 12, 1.5 spacing. Citation is written by following the bodynotes in Harvard APA Style. Introduction should introduce the research topic, research problem, purpose(s) of the research, and the previous researches.

2. METHODOLOGY [font Garamond 12; 1.5 space; Bold]

This section describes the technique of analysis along with the data and data sources. The Methodology must clearly explain the data, variables, procedures, and tools of data analysis. We encourage the author to include the research model as follow:

$$IF_i = \beta_0 + \beta_1 SBIS_i + \beta_3 INF + \varepsilon_i \quad (1)$$

$$CL_i = \beta_0 + \beta_1 SBI_i + \beta_3 INF + \varepsilon_i \quad (2)$$

3. RESULT AND DISCUSSION [font Garamond 12; 1.15 spacing; Bold]

This section provides the result of the study along with the discussion. Results can be presented in tables and figures when needed. The result(s) has to be clearly discussed with relevant theory and suitable literature. Captions for table are written above the table with sequenced numbering. Captions for image are placed below the picture with sequenced numbering too.

4. CONCLUSION [font Garamond 12; 1.5 spacing; Bold]

The conclusion has to be briefly presented. It presents lay out of the result, policy implications, weakness of the study, recommendation for future researches.

DECLARATION OF GENERATIVE AI AND AI-ASSISTED TECHNOLOGIES [only if AI tools were used]

Authors who used generative AI or AI-assisted tools while preparing the manuscript must disclose it in this section, placed directly before the reference list. If no such tools were used, delete this section. Please adapt the statement below:

“In preparing this article, the author(s) used [name and version of the tool/service] to [specific purpose, e.g., improving grammar and readability, translating, or checking the consistency of references]. The author(s) then reviewed, verified, and revised the resulting text and take full responsibility for the content of this publication.”

AI tools cannot be listed as authors or co-authors. They must not be used to create, alter, or manipulate research data, statistical results, figures, or findings, and every source suggested by an AI tool must be checked against the original publication before it is cited.

5. REFERENCES [font Garamond 12; 1.5 spacing; APA 7th edition]

The reference list contains every work cited in the text, and only those works, written in the American Psychological Association (APA) style, 7th edition. Authors are strongly encouraged to use reference management software (e.g., Mendeley, Zotero, or EndNote) so that in-text citations and the reference list stay consistent. Prioritize primary sources, especially reputable journal articles published in the last ten years, and keep self-citation reasonable. Include the DOI, written as <https://doi.org/...>, for every source that has one; otherwise, provide a stable URL.

Writing the reference list

1. Arrange the entries alphabetically by the surname of the first author. Works by the same author are ordered from the oldest to the newest; works by the same author in the same year are distinguished with letters (2022a, 2022b).

Author. Title

2. Write the names of all authors (surname, initials) up to 20 authors and place “&” before the last name. Do not write “et al.” in the reference list.
3. Write authors’ names without academic degrees or titles.
4. Use a hanging indent of 1.27 cm: the first line starts at the left margin and the following lines are indented.
5. Write titles of articles, books, and reports in title case (capitalize each major word). Italicize the titles of books and reports, and the journal name together with its volume number; the issue number in parentheses is not italicized.
6. When a work has no author, move its title to the author position and alphabetize it by the first significant word.
7. For sources written in a language other than English (e.g., Indonesian or Arabic), keep the original title and add its English translation in square brackets [].
8. Present all sources in one list; do not separate the list by type of source.
9. Verses of the Qur’an and hadith are cited in the text only and are not listed in the references, e.g., (Q.S. Al-Baqarah: 275) and (H.R. al-Bukhari and Muslim).

Citing in the text

1. One author: (Auda, 2008) or Auda (2008).
2. Two authors: (Haniffa & Hudaib, 2007) or Haniffa and Hudaib (2007).
3. Three or more authors: (Miftahuddin et al., 2022) or Miftahuddin et al. (2022).
4. Several works in one parenthesis, alphabetically and separated by semicolons: (Haniffa & Hudaib, 2007; Miftahuddin et al., 2022).
5. Direct quotations include the page number: (Author, Year, p. xx).
