NEW HUNT FOR LIFE IN SPACE

British space scientists are planning to join the American in the race to find evidence to life on other planets. Alan Penny and his team at the Rutherford Appleton Laboratory have ( 41 ) _____ a telescope that is 40 times more powerful than Hubble . ( 42 ) _____ as 'Darwin' , this telescope could tell if planets 50 light years away have any kind of life on them . Two days ( 43 ) _____ NASA scientists had shown proof that one of jupiter's moons could support life , Penny ( 44 ) _____ that his telescope may be include in a European Space Agency mission. The Darwin project, with a ( 45 ) _____ of 500 million , is on a shortlist of two proposals . If approved , it will probably be ( 46 ) _____ around 2010 , its destination somewhere between Mars and Jupiter . The blueprint is actually for five telescopes positioned 50 meters ( 47 ) _____ in space , slowly circling a central processing station . The combined data from these telescopes would build up a full picture of a planet , picking out faint images that have never been seen before . Darwin would not be able to take detailed photographs of the planets it ( 48 ) _____ , but Penny believes a second-generation telescope could be sent up to do this . He claims it is worthwhile mapping the universe around Our ( 49 ) _____ galaxy , even though these planets lie ( 50 ) _____ our reach for the moment . The European Space Agency will make its decision on Darwin within three years .

In this era of increased global warming and diminishing fossil fuel supplies , we must begin to put a greater priority on harnessing alternative energy sources . Fortunately , there are a number of readily available , renewable resources that are both cost-effective and earth-friendly . Two such resources are solar power and geothermal power.

Solar energy , which reaches the earth through sunlight , is so abundant that it could meet the needs of worldwide energy consumption 6,000 times over . And solar energy is easily harnessed thorough the use of photovoltaic cells that convent sunlight into electricity. In the United States alone , more than 100,00 homes are equipped with solar electric systems in the form of solar panels or solar roof tiles. And in other parts of the world, including many developing countries, the use of solar systems is growing steadily.

Another alternative energy source, which is abundant in specific geographical areas, is geothermal power, which creates energy by tapping heat from below the surface of the earth. Hot water and steam that are trapped in underground pools are pumped to the surface and used to run a generator, which produces electricity. Geothermal energy is 50,000 times more abundant than the entire known supply of fossil fuel resources. And as with solar power, the technology needed to utilize geothermal energy is fairly simple. A prime example of effective geothermal use is in Iceland, a region of high geothermal activity, where over 80 percent of private homes are heated by geothermal power.

Solar and geothermal energy are just two of a number of promising renewable alternatives to conventional energy sources. The time is long overdue to invest in the development and use of alternative energy on a global scale.

Câu 51. What is the main topic of this passage?

- A. The benefits of solar and wind power over conventional energy sources.
- B. How energy resources are tapped from nature.
- C. Two types of alternative energy sources that should be further utilized.
- D. Examples of use of energy sources worldwide.

Câu 52. According to the passage, Why should we consider using alternative energy sources?

- A. Because fossil fuels are no longer available.
- B. Because global warming has increased the amount of sunlight that reaches the earth.
- C. Because they are free and available worldwide.
- D. Because conventional energy sources are being depleted, and they cause environmental damage.

Câu 53. According to the passage, what can be inferred about solar roof tiles?

- A. They are being used in many underdeveloped countries.
- B. They can convert geothermal power to electricity.
- C. They are more expensive than solar panels.
- D. They contain photovoltaic cells.

Câu 54. According to the passage, how is solar energy production similar to geothermal energy production?

- A. They both require fairly simple technology.
- B. They both use heat from the earth's surface.
- C. They both require the use of a generator.
- D. They are both conventional and costly.

Câu 55. According to the passage, which of the following is true about solar power?

- A. There is very little of it available in Iceland.
- B. There is enough of it to far exceed the energy needs of the world.
- C. It is 6,000 times more powerful than energy from fossil fuels.
- D. It is being used in 100,000 private homes worldwide.

Niagara Falls, one of the most famous North American natural wonders, has long been a popular tourist destination. Tourists today flock to see the two falls that actually constitute Niagara Falls: the 173-foot Horseshoe Falls on the Canadian side of the Niagara River in the Canadian province of Ontario and the 182-foot high American Falls on the U.S. side of the river in the state of New York. Approximately 85 percent of the water that goes over the falls actually goes over Horseshoe Falls, with the rest going over American Falls.

Most visitors come between April and October, and it is quite a popular activity to take a steamer out onto the river and right up to the base of the falls for a close-up view. It is also possible to get a spectacular view of the falls from the strategic locations along the Niagara River, such as Prospect Point or Table Rock, or from one of the four observation towers which have heights up to 500 feet.

Tourists have been visiting Niagara Falls in large numbers since the 1800s; annual visitation now averages above 10 million visitors per year. Because of concern that all these tourists would inadvertently destroy the natural beauty of this scenic wonder, the state of New York in 1885 created Niagara Falls Park in order to protect the land surrounding American Falls. A year later Canada created Queen Victoria Park on the Canadian side of the Niagara, around Horseshoe Falls. With the area surrounding the falls under the jurisdiction of government agencies, appropriate steps could be taken to preserve the pristine beauty of the area.

Câu 56. What is the major point that the author is making in this passage?

- A. Niagara Falls can be viewed from either the American side or the Canadian side.
- B. A trip to the United States isn't complete without a visit to Niagara Falls.
