You are too good of a teacher Leo! And it's not even a matter of LP. I feel like I can understand even the hard games (the games that I were clueless before), why are becoming like this more and more. The more understand the more fun i get! It really is like opening a gate to a different game!

On a completely unrelated sidenote, but I actually beat a GM Mid main as Malzahar Mid by applying mid game fundamentals we are talking about haha^^

Been playing since season 2 and finally hit diamond for the first time. Huge shout out and thank you to a few coaches that helped me piece the things together as I pushed through the emerald climb @EUW] Pabu @OCE] Coach Leo !

Lucas 9:36 PM

somethings really started to click man, so thankful for that one session, opened my eyes to do the basic really right

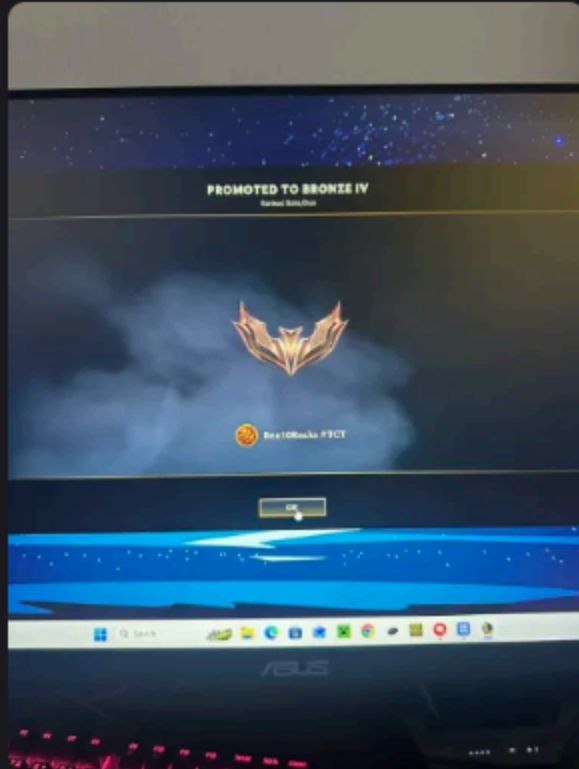

Imma book another session to fine tune things so I can learn how to punish and push advantages harder cause I have a feeling a losing streak must be around the corner 😂

ben_ryba Yesterday at 8:29 AM

Just hit bronze! Thanks a lot for the lesson and I think it's time for another one. I've been climbing so far and want to keep progressing

[NA] Deadsainttv 1:28 PM

What's up fellow climbers! After a coaching session from [@\[OCE\] Coach Leo](#) where it felt like the whole game kinda clicked in place I went on a pretty insane 80% win rate run and climbed from Gold 3 0-10 LP to Plat 4 for the very first time. In this push my Mundo went 12-0. Feeling very positive and grateful for Leo and everyone's help. Good luck in your next games everyone!

Lucas 1:43 PM

gotta thank you for this first step man from bronze 4 camp up, camp down 🤘 on to the next goal might need a couple more sessions lol

[EUNE] Swixx  3:46 AM

@[OCE] Coach Leo Did it bro XD. Sorry if i mentioned u a lot today. I'm just so excited! Up a whole division in just 2 sessions when i was hard stuck in Gold for months now. (edited)

[EUW] Wanderlyst 🍄 Norøn 🏆 5:41 AM

One coaching session with @[OCE] Coach Leo, where he told me to stop "ooga booga", and I went straight from Plat IV to Emerald in a week. After 13 years of playing league, I had almost given up hope that improvement was possible. Well, now I shattered a 4 year plateau, and can finally see that glorious green border. Cheers to the coaches and the rest of the academy, I don't think I would have gotten to this point without BBC and the coaches here 😊

Finally !

steepex 5:28 AM

Hey Leo! Suprise suprise!

So 300 lp achieved, i guess that's the end for me as a 41 year old:D (just joking:))

Thank you very much! Two other out of in game topics helped:

- 1-2 games with masters account (highest mmr acc) per day.
- Only watching your coaching session several times or listening from time to time (not consuming multiple stuff from multiple content creators)

Main things I'm focusing: Checking minimap before fights/waves/objectives & Reacting to plays (Int check)

p1an 6:12 AM

I'm not a direct student of yours, but I wanted to reach out to say your videos have helped me learn so much about the fundamentals of jungle. Hitting diamond for the first time became such a simple puzzle with your knowledge on how to actually control games. Please don't stop making content!!!

Ranked up to Emerald for the first time from G2 around 2 months ago. OTP Rammus played nothing else on this climb. I watched a ton of coaching vods and clip questions from yall to improve my game and all the daily jungle postings. The things that helped me the most was up time/downtime, ignoring top lane unless I absolutely need to be there, and pinging my team constantly. In my session with [@\[OCE\] Coach Leo](#), he recommended I control the game with pings, and that's what I started doing. Some calls are int, but I learned so much more macro just by seeing what works and what doesn't through pinging my team. It makes the games much smoother and more predictable, and the vast majority of the time, my team listens to me. Rammus is very mechanically easy, so mental stack goes all into pinging the map. 3 block process also helped a lot to avoid tilt. I cannot really get tilted within 3 games, but if I play more, I can go on losing streaks. Lastly, thank you Sean G your Rammus vods on the website were very helpful.

- @[OCE] Coach Leo for the 1 on 1 sessions this last month
- @[EUW] Pabu for the vod questions, the lectures, the coaching i got from my champion cycle this year
- @[OCE] Nathan Mott for the coaching session, the vod questions, the lectures, bam triple kill and the podcast
- @[NA] Paul (Nocturne Expert) for the review of my udyr gameplay and of course this lovely community who made me love this game again

First time Emerald.

Your videos have helped a lot by sharing fundamentals other challengers share (and then a few more) but articulated better than any with clear terms I kept returning to in my mind.

Perhaps most of all, you have a rare, even-tempered, analytical mental I enjoy matching in league and beyond (this is the way haha). Thank you and keep it up! Warm wishes from an unc in Boston.

Marxjock 23/12/2025 7:02 AM

@Coach Leo Started watching your videos recently, and it motivated me to dive into soloQ again. Your framework and insights were just what I needed to level up. Reached my New Years goal of dia early, and might test where the ceiling actually is. Big ups to you

I had one 90 min session with him and I found the pre and post game talk very informative. The approach of not looking at your elo too much and instead just focus on improving, especially the things and bad habits we picked up on, is very helpful as well. What I appreciate most about Leo is the simplicity with which he explains fundamentals and concepts. Be it in a coaching or from the YT videos it's always easy to understand and follow.

gold 4 to plat 2 in 2 weeks after coaching, what can i say

Had my first session with leo, even though im already masters hes made it clear to me that there is still so much i dont know about jungling, and he has completely changed my outlook on the game. His coaching style aswell is perfect, not nit picking the small mistakes, but teaching you and providing input on ways you can affect every game in the future. I highly recommend him.

I have done 2 sessions with coach Leo and he has completely changed how I see the game. I am a Diana OTP before coach Leo I was stuck silver 2 with a 45% WR on Diana but after 3 weeks and 2 sessions I am finally Gold (3) and my WR is now positive!! His way of explaining is always super clear and I really like how he talks about both your weaknesses and strengths as a player. He changed how I approach my early game the first session and my mid game the second. I have done 2 live coaching sessions that were super insightful and he answers every question very clearly always. I cant wait to keep learning from him. Highly recommend if you are serious about climbing!

I'm am new to league so i did a session with him after watching some YouTube on jungle and what goes into it i was confident i had an idea of what it was about. but man did he open my eyes to what playing jungle means and how it affects the game. He helped out a lot and get a good understanding of what i was missing, and broke it down so i could understand. looking forward to the grind and getting better. 10/10 recommend. will get another session, cant wait to see how far i can get.

I originally found Leo through his YouTube channel — he puts out a ton of great free content that really stood out to me. After watching a few of his videos, I decided to book some coaching, and I'm so glad I did. I did about five 90-minute 1-on-1 sessions with Leo, and it completely changed how I thought about and played the game. His ability to break down concepts, explain decision-making, and teach the why behind each move is incredibly helpful. I went from Silver IV to Platinum I in just over a month before having to stop for personal reasons. If you're looking to seriously improve your League gameplay, I can't recommend Leo enough.

Armstrong

I'm a top main who wanted to learn jungle so I could understand the game more & also have a bit more fun getting off the island. Leo coached me through my first ever jungle game (i usually dodge when autofill jng). Ive been playing league since s2 (highest silver) and have developed a ton of bad habits. Its safe to say that Leo is paving the way for me to learn how to play League the correct way. Super grateful for him and how he has exposed the game for me. 10/10 man. Looking forward to finally getting to diamond !!

Stalfuric

After getting my first coaching session ever with Leo he showed me just how much i was missing, being an amumu main from bronze to plat and shifting and showing just how much my mentality needs to change, bringing up great points to work on to improve myself that i had not noticed or considered myself definitely will look to having another in the future, so many great points to work on

BICH NGA

Having a Challenger-level coach observe you live can definitely be a nerve-wracking experience, but Leo made the process constructive and engaging. I really appreciated the structure of the session—from discussing my long-term goals, to playing a live game, and then reviewing the VOD together. Leo has a sharp eye for identifying high-impact adjustments I could make immediately to improve my jungle fundamentals. He helped me better understand what true efficiency means in jungle pathing and how to clear more effectively. I'm looking forward to booking another session in the near future to measure my growth and continue improving. Absolutely worth the investment .

did one session with Leo a few months ago. Went over early game planning. How to deal with invades and who to gank. The invade help has been insanely helpful as a OTP lillia (who needs to scale and is weak early). He helped expose that it's actually worse for the enemy to do it and why. Instead of getting tilted and mad, I now have the tools to punish the enemy jungler for their invades. Applying his teachings, I started picking up wins where I normally wouldn't have - and went from plat 4 to emerald 2. Literally just spent an hour on my early game, and kept drilling into my habits what he told me. im due for another session soon to cover other aspects. Hopefully get to diamond soon!

Piggybacking off what @Yunnus said I've been working with Leo for 6 or so months and started mid platinum 100s of games a season and session after session worked my way up to now being a diamond player! The results are rarely instantaneous (for me) but he makes you a better player in the long run with fundamentals and consistency  Just put in the reps!

Warhawk

I've been stuck Silver IV-III for multiple seasons, never able to break into Gold. I even tried a different coach before I found Leo, but nothing was clicking. After one session with Leo I gained a whole new perspective on the game. Suddenly, I was able to turn around the games where I normally would have f'd or started making poor decisions. After only one week of implementing Leo's notes, I finally reached Gold. 6 Stars

Yunnus

Been working on an off with Leo for a year. When he started coaching me was at E4 struggling to understand the role of jungle besides running around and killing players. He quickly elevated my game to diamond level (took around 2 months). Then for the next year or so I didn't play to climb as real life responsibilities kicked in - still I consistently hit diamond throughout all of season 14 in all 3 splits. Returning in season 15 Leo elevated my game even further, and I can now proudly say that I'm a Master-tier player. His understanding of the game is insane, and he sees patterns I wouldn't, while still remaining humble and referring to other great junglers. Amazing coach that undoubtedly will lead you to success if you put in the reps!

Had my first session with Leo and while sometimes it's easier for a coach to find obvious improvements to a play, Leo was able to find the themes surrounding my entire gameplay that could use improvement. Very insightful and already had a huge winstreak afterwards. Looking forwards to more sessions good advice presented in a clear and comprehensible manner. he helped identify flaws in gameplay and outlined how much more impact I could have had.

I had an amazing coaching session! Leo was knowledgeable, patient, and provided clear, actionable advice to improve my gameplay. He broke down concepts easily and gave great feedback on my weaknesses. Identify how I could have gotten stronger. Highly recommend them for anyone looking to climb!

Kamoshha

I had two sessions with Coach Leo and he is an amazing teacher. He is able to look at the game through the perspective of the player and explain why something might or might not work. As a jungler you want to be adaptable and he emphasizes this concept. I made mistakes through both of my session and he pointed them out and told me what factors/principles I should consider and how I could do that when he isn't there, which is extremely valuable. The JG GAP goes crazy for real. Thank you so much for the coaching, once again, Leo

First session with coach Leo, first time getting coaching in general. I had a pleasant experience, I am also happy i took multiple session so we can tackle multiple flaws in my game, looking forward to improve. I love the fact that he tried to learn me as a player, and that he helped me see my goal on a bigger timeline, rather than focusing on the elo aspect of my journey. Answered a few "not usefull" question that I had in my head on technicality, which free'd up my head while playing!

I had my first session with Coach Leo, very intelligent and knowledgeable guy! I've learnt quite a few concepts of how to jungle as Graves. We went through VOD and he underlined some mistakes that have been made during the game. Definietly I will come back!

I had my first session with Coach Leo and it went great! I've been watching tons of YouTube videos about getting better at league and while I learned the basic concepts I struggled to identify when to apply what strategy. Coach Leo helped me enormously with my mindset and identified which weaknesses to focus on first. I went in with a vod I had already reviewed and documented myself to see how much more Coach Leo would see. It was incredible the amount of things I missed during the review. I'm excited to book more lessons and take my game to the next level.

 very nice experience, some key jungling behaviour we went through that was very helpful and changes basically the game. Very friendly, very structured and good way to teach too, noting the to dos and not to dos for your specific champ

5/5 our session bring a lot of stuff i wouldn't even think, totally recommended, exposed every weakness of you in a way that you can understand why, how and when to do the moves and think ahead of time

Emil Jørgensen

5/5!!! ☐ ☐ ☐ ☐ ☐ overall just a joyfull experience. Leo is very good at overcoming any social awkwardness you may worry about and just sets a good tone. the jungling advice is just spot on, and Coach Leo is very good at explainting to you in an understandable/relateable way. and most importantly i had a lot of fun and learned a lot. So yeah i can for sure recommend this to everyone ☐

Had my 1st session with Leo last week. He was so great at showing me where I can improve that will definitely take my playing to the next level. He's a really nice guy and only wants you to be better for your next games. I highly recommend his coaching and if you are stuck and not sure what you are doing wrong, his coaching has great value! 5/5 rating!

Just had my 1st session with Leo! He combed through my vod and spotted all of my weaknesses, and he articulated & explained concepts really well. He was also very receptive to my questions. Really chill & cool guy  looking forward to my next session

First session with Leo COMPLETE! He started off strong by actually getting to know me a little bit which I appreciate more than ever. He really seems to care about the person behind the screen more than just teaching you and walking away. After we got into game he really hammered home ideas I've even heard in his videos. Praising the correct decisions, while guiding me after a mistake, even nudging me in the right direction if I'm so close to the answer myself. I have never had a coach or a tutor before. It was a pleasant experience with a very knowledgeable person, who has made me more motivated than ever to pursue my goal of being NAs Rank 1 Udyr!

Had my session with Leo a few hours ago and i have to say, that he is by FAR the best coach ive had so far. He pointed out my mistakes, told me how to fix them and gave suggestions on what i could have done differently. He also explained which mentality i should keep during games where your team ints, and explained the macro concept when playing from behind. He also helped me narrow down my champion pool and gave me tips for high quality games (playing w.o music and max. 2 champs etc.). I think the way he planned the coaching was great. He was really chill, collected and made jokes about the game, but still helped me focus and get the win. Cant wait to use the things i learned in game and then get my 2nd session :))

Ollie Reed

Had a great session with Leo, which surely won't be the last. He is a cool, calm and collected coach with great knowledge. He made the coaching very specific to me and my champion choice, and what i enjoyed the most is his way of explaining, which makes everything really easy to understand, and quickly applicable to your game.

I thought the coaching was really good helpful, i liked the how the session was set up and how calmly coach leo explained fundamentals

Violet

Coaching was incredible. Very concise and easy to digest information, he was very understanding with me asking a lot of questions highly recommend

Coach trolled my game, but the session was really good. I learned which things to focus on to improve, he showed me the combo, and not only explained, but also showed in practice tool how to avoid mistakes that I made. Also all my additional questions were answered. Recommend!!

Coaching went super well. I had some special requests and Leo was happy to be flexible. We went over 5v5 draft leagues, and discussed my teams game plans and win conditions in detail for the majority of my first session. I left feeling confident. We then did a live coaching session of a graves gameplay in Emerald/d4 MMR soloq vs J4. It went well, but the game went downhill fast, but there was a lot of good value to take away from the game. I am very excited for my next sessions.

Tainted Talent

Overall I liked the coaching a lot. Leo was calm and answered all of my question and elaborated ideas. I played a live game and streamed it, the game was a disaster but Leo was still able to gather good understandable feedback. I got great notes and a checklist to look at before starting my games. Looking foward to my next session. ☐ ☐

I really liked the flexibility of the coaching. I could always just ask random question that came up while reviewing or playing and Leo would quickly switch to that topic, while still getting the main points across. I feel like I had the chance to finally ask all the questions that come up while playing the game that you can't answer by yourself if youre not playing league for 12hrs a day. Playing one game where I basically got backseated by Leo was way more helpful than I thought because he manages to still make you think yourself while playing and not just follow his orders like other coaches would maybe do. Session was recorded and is accessible for me afterwards which is also great! ☐

I really enjoyed my first session, the coaching felt very natural and educational. He was flexible and adapted to my needs, we worked on more in depth details and I could tell he knows his stuff. He took time to answer all my questions and made sure I understood the concept. I find it nice that he keeps in touch and remains open to questions afterward.

If you are on the fence about coaching and not sure if you really need or want it, i'd reccomend you just send it and get one session to see what it's like. Leo is super knowledgeable and with a proven track record of success in professional league but he is also personable and easy to get a long with. There are plenty of coaches who sit in a place where they are really nice and sound like they are good at teaching but lack the experience and proof that they've succeeded at high level. Same can be said of the opposite. The price point he is currently offering is a bargain and you won't find better offers elsewhere.

Aidan / Surge

As a person who has had many different coaches of all capabilities and knowledge, I must say that Coach Leo has the most knowledge by a country mile of any coach I have ever used. Any questions you have about jungling or the game, I am pretty sure that he will have an answer for it! I couldn't recommend Leo enough to anyone and tbh it's a steal for the price that he genuinely offers. As a person struggling with closing games out, having an idea on how to do so would have been completely different without insight from coach himself. Will more than likely book another session in the next month to go over more questions, especially with this ever-growing game (with changes in patches) changing my opinions about how I do things! 100% would recommend to absolutely anyone.

Ben

First session with Leo was increibly worth it. He was willing to change to the structure of the session to my preferences(VOD review instead of live game). We went over two vods and he did a great job providing meaningful feedback that I can carry into my future games. He did a great communicating his struture as to how he approaches winning games, the short comings that I consistently make. Left me with a well structured list of notes for things to work on. Excited for my next session and would highly recommend!

First of all sorry for my english! He can also do with you guys if your english is not the best. He is such a nice guy. Friendly anserw every question. Helpfull in every moment. I dont know really what can i write. Reccommend for everyone if u dont know what is the next step to climb!!! He will help!!! I promise!

The value for your money is insane. I highly recommend, Leo is knowledgeable and patient, I will provide a more detailed review when our sessions are over, but so far it has been very helpful.

Had my first session with Leo, Great conversations, very knowledgeable and concise with his lesson. His in game coaching was the highlight as it didn't feel like I was being back seated and instead being asked questions that I got to answer for myself- phenomenal coach had the first session with Leo, first, amazing value for the quality. Very realistic with goals (I gotta do a lot of work If I want GM) not sure if it was just a me thing but him repeatedly telling me my mistakes was very useful on driving the point home. Did a good job about pointing out wincons through laners and giving insights into lane match ups and which lanes to play for. Will follow up after I get the next session (Currently E4)

Also had my first session with Leo and wasn't disappointed.  He was quick to point out what I was doing right and wrong and even provided personalized notes and advice on what to focus on next. He was open to any questions that I had and explained everything really well. After implementing his pointers I immediately went on a winning streak and felt like I was almost playing blindfolded before (P4). Value for money is obviously excellent. There's a lot that can be tackled in 90 minutes. Also a very nice and funny guy, easy to talk to. We'll get revenge on cannon minion Kench and blind Brand eventually. 10/10!

First Session with Leo: This guy's the real deal. Super informative, no BS approach. My first time getting coaching and was super cool to see how Leo takes the time to rly understand who you are, what your goals are and then helps u get into the details and solve for your personal goals. First session with Leo was great! The session was a full 90 mins that didn't feel rushed at all. I scaled from P3 to P1 in a matter of a day after the first session. Leo is a true battle tested veteran of the game and has a fundamental understanding of the game that exceeded the lessons i've learned from skill capped videos. The fact he could make the fundamental lessons salient to my specific champion was the icing on top. Highly recommend before this guy blows up— and he definitely will frankiesssss

I've had a couple of sessions with Leo in the past week. Great sessions! He is really good at explaining why a play I want to do is not a high success play. Given me some tips on what to look for before I go in for a gank and that alone has really improved my ganks to make them much better. His analysis after the game is even better and he points out small details that have a huge impact on the game that I would have never notice. I highly recommend Leo if you're looking to improve.

Magden

First session with Leo was amazing, super friendly, really clear explanations and really good at understanding what you need to be doing and guiding you to get there 1000% would recommend!

My session with Leo helped me in many ways! Right off the bat he tried to figure me out and my playstyle. The coaching he has given me has helped my playstyle in the game and overall how I think about the game. He looked at my OP.GG and even recommended me a champ pool specifically for me. He takes notes during the session and records to go over with you at the end and sends you the notes so you can always remember his recommendations. For my first coaching session ever I'd say it was very successful and I would do it again. You get your money's worth with Leo, he is very passionate about the game and has a very good background with the game. Another thing to note is the 90 minute session is very nice.

Had my very first coaching session today with Leo. We spoke about goals, champ pool for the first few minutes, he immediately made me feel at ease and was very enjoyable to converse with. For the gameplay itself, he helped me a lot without hand holding me like I see with other coaches, he asked me questions about my thought process then gave his experienced perspective on the choices. He really helped me to point out some flaws that I hadn't recognised; such as pausing before making a play and slowing down to give my brain time to react to what is happening and making the right decision. Overall would happily have more coaching again in the future.

. Had 6 sessions with Leo. I believe the most important part of coaching is giving you a perspective you can't gain on your own. He helps you see improvements you can make at any level you're at. The coaching is pretty flexible to your needs and doesn't have to follow the same format as everyone. I think most of us have pre conceived notions on why it is we lose a game and what it was we could have done differently to improve. At the very least try one session with him. If it feels that you are coming to the same answers as him without him leading you to it then you may not need the help, but if he is helping you see things you wouldn't have on your own then this is invaluable and honestly for an hour and 30 minutes its very fairly priced.

I just had my first session with the coach, eventually you have to play enough games in order to be consistent, you will win some and lose some, i like to play early game aggression and i'd rather lose the game by myself rather than full doing nothing and still lose boring games, we are working on that. but so far, we went over pathing, strategies, most common scenarios and how to avoid traps, it was very insightful and we still have more sessions ahead of us, he's what he says he is, what more can you ask for: professional, composed, world stage experienced, offers personalized strategies, has all the knowledge.

Just finished my first coaching session with Leo, and highly recommended him if you're thinking about coaching. For someone who has played pro for many years, in some of the biggest tournaments id say his prices are very fair. He is very punctual, respectful and has a friendly demeanor about himself which really made the lesson flow smoothly. I

侍衛士 (MARU)

Leo helped point out various mistakes and weaknesses that I wasn't aware of, despite having gotten coaching in the past. This speaks to his quality of instruction, and the extent to which he is watching and analyzing your gameplay. I was also very glad that he was strict, and made sure that it stung to re-watch my big mistakes during the VOD review. If a coach is too nice or too lax, it can give you a false sense of security, and you risk not taking your mistakes seriously enough to improve. Also, just a chill dude, need I say more? Highly recommended.

Leo helped me with gaining new perspective and insights into how to play the game and on what things should I focus more. He spend with me quite a bit of time on conversation what could be and what should. Highly recommended dude

I cant emphasize enough how valuable leo's coaching is. I finished last season 1k LP and I still learned so much from one session how to be a better competitive player. If he can help me improve so drastically, he can help anyone at any rank

I really enjoyed the whole thing, he showed insight into many things that had escaped my attention until now, I can only recommend him to everyone!

I had 1 session with Leo. He taught me how to path efficiently and helped me to understand how to make the right decisions during the game. Leo's method is straight forward and effective. Having him coaching me during a live game really helped me to understand how I should think about the jungling in general.

Had a great session with Leo. He was straight with me about faults while also complementing right calls - a really great teacher overall. I loved the way he provoked critical thinking, constantly pushing me to take action and make decisions rather than auto-piloting when ahead.

10/10 coach, would dearly recommend - i'm coming back for seconds

Just finished my session with Leo and it went very well in my opinion. Super nice guy and was very clear in explaining things to me. Even TOOK NOTES FOR ME. And after going over what I needed to go over and work on he recommended some good resources for me to use moving forward. Highly recommended for anyone wanting to improve and maximize their time with league of legends.

Had my first session with Leo today and I got everything out of it that I was hoping for! We reviewed 2 replays of mine and he was swiftly able to pick out the things I should work on. Can't wait to build my fundamentals going forward and I'll definitely be scheduling more sessions in the future!

First VOD review session with Leo today, very interesting insights and a lot of fun while doing it. Was able to quickly pinpoint major flaws in my gameplay, and even adapted to provide tips for my duo and the synergy we should build together.

Just had my first session with Leo. I'm a very new player so there is obviously a lot of mistakes and stuff to go over in my gameplay, but Leo helped me identify what was most important for me to improve and what to focus on. I learned a lot of new concepts and found some better solutions to in game situations. Leo made sure I understood why these new concepts work / why my mistakes were incorrect. I already feel way more confident going into my ranked games. Very good teaching would recommend

Had a great session with Coach, he highlighted glaring errors in my gameplay revolving around tempo. He really gave me a more clear vision of the errors I was making and it has allowed me to view the game a bit more clearly and break the rut I was in. Definitely recommended.

I had an exceptional coaching experience with Coach Leo. He was professional and helped me further understand tempo, efficient pathing, and playing for my win condition. I especially appreciated the VOD review portion of our session. I would enthusiastically and wholeheartedly recommend to anybody serious about improving.

Had my first session with Leo yesterday, just with one I've been able to improve on aspects of the game I had not taken in account, and pretty much solidify doubts I had about my gameplay. He's able to adapt his teaching to a whole range of elos from what I've see and experienced + gave me a nice trusty checklist that hasn't failed me so far, definitely will be booking a session again in the future!

I had my first private coaching session with Leo today and it went very well. We took a comprehensive approach to my League experience covering things like league history, champion pool, strengths/weaknesses, mental approach, long term goals, etc. We also went through a VoD of my gameplay where he was quickly able to identify areas of improvement and clearly articulate why my decisions/plans were suboptimal. I now have a much clearer gameplan heading into this week's games and am looking forward to our next session. Would highly recommend Leo's coaching to anyone who is serious about improving!

I have the first private coaching session with Leo and it was really an eye opener! I was impressed by his professionalism and ability to effectively communicate complex concepts in a clear and understandable manner. He patiently answered all of my questions, providing detailed explanations and practical examples to reinforce my learning process. I was thinking that I'm trying to apply fundamentals to each of my games like win conditions, pathing, etc. but after the session I noticed that I didn't identify most of my mistakes. After going over two VoDs focusing on early game, his expertise in jungle pathing, objective control, fight selection and positioning are truly remarkable. He took the time to analyze my game play thoroughly, identifying areas for improvement and offering a structured approach (focus points until next session to get them in my autopilot) to enhance my performance. Now with the tangible goals & focusing, the game is really more fun but demand more attention in game like reading out lanes to guess what would happen in next 30 sec.

Been lurking this discord for a few a bit and had my first session with Leo. It went really well. I got to note some of my repeating bad habits as well as finally having an actual game plan for myself instead of playing randomly without structure. If you're intimidated about doing something like this for the first time like I was I highly recommend it. I'm excited to apply the concepts onto my games and refine what to work on in our next session.

Just finished my first coaching session, I didn't expect to learn so much in 90min. If you're really serious about your gameplay and wanna improve I highly recommend Coach Leo. You're literally learning from a pro and I think the prices are really fair considering the amount of information you're going to get. Coach Leo has a way of giving you the info without it being too much.

Jarrett

Just wrapped up my first session with Leo and will definitely book more sessions in the future. He briefly went over my goals, opgg, etc. and fielded any questions that I had. After that, he gave me the choice of how I wanted to spend the rest of the time. I chose to review two of the games I recently lost. He spent the rest of the time going over each game in extensive detail. By the end, I knew exactly what had gone wrong and how I can improve moving forward. After the session concluded, he gave me some notes and asked me to keep him updated with my climb. The notes are great as they help to summarize all that I learned in the session and provide me with direction. If you are trying to improve and feeling lost as to what your issues are, I would highly recommend getting coached by Leo. You will walk away with a fresh outlook on the game and an understanding of what your mindset should be at any given phase of the game.

I am grandmaster euw player, and I had my first session with Leo recently. We have went through two of my games and a bit of opgg. Leo has extensive knowledge of the game and he gave me some great inputs. It was amazing to talk with someone as experience in competitive as him. Will be working with him in the future for sure.

He really understood what I needed. We started by talking about my goals, then looked at my op.gg profile to refine my champion pool. During the live game, he gave some pointers but not too many to let me make decisions too and so the mistakes i actually make is seen. Afterward, he gave me simple tips on what to improve on and some good notes on what mistakes i make in specific. @Coach Leo is super dedicated to helping you get better. His advice was clear and easy to follow. I totally recommend him to anyone who wants to level up in League of Legends. Thanks, @Coach Leo , for a great session!

First lesson went so well I signed up for 3 more to finish out the month. Definitely a coach that understands the how to take you to the next level. The entire 90minutes was packed with tons of knowledge. I highly recommend Leo as a coach. Not only does he excel at working directly with you and your champions, but he also provides valuable insights into the mindset of everyone on the map, significantly enhancing your overall skill set.

Just had my first session. It was everything I anticipated it to be and so much more. Coach Leo revealed a plethora of knowledge that I would have never been able to find out about on my own. Had been hesitant for the longest time to spend money on coaching, but am happy to say it was well worth it. Will 100% be shellin out dat cash in this man's direction until I reach my goal. I recently had a coaching session with Leo, which was incredibly beneficial. Leo was easy to get along with, and his insight and educational skills were exceptional. He profoundly understands the game and was impressive at pinpointing my mistakes. His insights on how I could improve were clear and actionable. I appreciated his approach to coaching, which made the whole experience enjoyable and highly educational. If you're considering a coaching session, I recommend coaching sessions with Leo!

Just had my first session and it went really well, Coach Leo has incredible insight into the gameplay, his instructions were on point and ability to find my mistakes and actually show me how to fix them made it very clear to me that this was good choice, i have been little stuck on improving my skills and this already opened my eyes to the path on which i can improve! Thank you very much Leo!

Had my session with Leo and definitely think i have the tools and knowledge now to achieve my goal of Master. Really good insights as ive hit a point where my mistakes are not always as clear, so thank you for pushing me to be more efficient. Definitely recommend him to

My first session I really appreciated how Coach Leo gave me the choice of what I wanted to focus on and stuck with it in heavy detail including some very useful pointers I never thought about. He's very insightful and gives clear description in what it means to be a high tier jungler. He is the coach to go to if you're looking to improve fast. You'll get your moneys worth.

I had my first session with Coach Leo and let me say what an eye opener. Little things that can put you ahead that I had no idea about. Honestly the help is amazing and definitely a confidence booster for me. The pathing and vision of the game is huge. I feel with more sessions and another set of eyes definitely helps me. Looking forward to doing more. If you are looking to improve this is the guy to go to!

Like many of you, I spend a lot of time researching, learning, and consuming content about the game. In spite of feeling like my game knowledge and general performance have been improving over the last 3 months when I started playing ranked more, I hit S3 and then tanked to B3 in no time and have been hovering there for longer than I'd like to admit. My conclusion: I was, and still am, doing too many things wrong and am not proficient enough to self diagnose the problems. That's where Coach Leo comes in. As a former teacher I can tell you that Leo nails all of the traits of a great educator and coach: calm, intelligent, well spoken, affable, and insightful. I even sent him a message before the session because I hadn't received a link or anything and wasn't sure if I was missing something. He was quick, clear, and friendly with his response. The power of a session is that even though we try to learn independently by watching lots of content, most of us don't realize many of the micro-mistakes that we're making or the true level of detail we need pay attention to in our games to fix our decision making, improve our performance, and often break our bad habits. With Coach Leo's experience he will help you pinpoint your weaknesses, give you tools to improve them, and explain concepts you may be unaware of or are overlooking. I came out of the session energized and excited to apply all of the information I was given. If you feel like your gameplay is in a rut or you're just not enjoying the game as much these days, I highly recommend scheduling a session!

After a rocky first session due to my internet connection being REALLY bad, resulting in a terrible stream and Leo not being able to see much, he kindly postponed the session to do a vod review at another time. We went through some pre 15 minute mistakes and pathing that could have helped the early game. I have some solid points to work on for future games, looking forward to the next one! Thank you.

Had my first session with Leo yesterday! Learned a lot of things, Leo explains things in a simple way and he is also good at micro things at your champion to maximize your playmaking potential. You might not see your mistakes but Leo will. Hit him up for a single session and try him you won't regret it. He's invested in your player growth and its a journey its up to you to listen.

Just had my first session. Got some good information on when/where to fight and how to take more advantage of my champ's strengths. Having some coaching on which things to go for and which not to was definitely different than the decision making process that I would usually make while playing and I'm hoping to carry as much of that thought process through to my games on my own.

Cat father

First Lesson with Leo was awesome; learned a lot and helped me understand the fundamentals of what I want to be doing early. Looking forward to improving more and working with him, would recommend.

Rigamortus (40%)

Finished my for Session with Leo (After I was 30 min late. He patiently waited for me). Here's a Very Honest Review. Quickly about me. I've played in multiple amateur leagues around Emerald/Diamond level. My team mates began ranking higher and hitting master while I peaked D4. So I decided to seek out coaching to improve and hopefully hit Higher diamond tiers. Coach Leo introduced a new mindset about the game to me. It changed the way I path and Macro each game. On a lower level he was also able to point out ways I could further my advantages. For example where I would kill the enemy jungle and normally reset instead I should kill him and take 1-2 camps. It seems obvious but being able to reconizge when you can and cannot greed for a little extra makes a big difference. Again the biggest thing for me was my mindset in approaching each game. I would just always path to which lane I thought would have prio. Leo gave me a "check list" of 3 things in the lobby that helps determine pathing. All these things can make a huge difference. Now most importantly do I think Coach Leo coaching is effective. In short yes I do. But I am a very skepical person. I've only played roughly 10 or so games since the coaching and I've seen positive results. Now is this from the new mind set or just because I'm locking in more and focusing more on the game. I think maybe some of both but either way a positive result is a postive result. I'm looking forward to the next coaching session and I'm very interested in learning more. If you're looking for a coach I would highly recommend Leo.

Just following up a couple weeks later. I was just looking at my game history and while the winrate is still sometimes volatile, I've ended up truly carrying some games and I'm usually the MVP on u.gg for having the most impact on the game or the Ace on the times I haven't been. Very pleased with what I've learned so far.

Booked my first coaching session with Leo; I am fairly new to the game, and he was able to break down core mechanics of the game for me to understand and i can implement in the game. Seeing how much of a difference there was in my gameplay due to his coaching was astonishing. Just focusing on improving one simple thing; my tempo has had amazing results for me. I am fully satisfied with the first session, and looking forward to future sessions.

It was a really nice session. I can say that he opened my eyes, he tells you things that you cannot understand even if you watch the match replays yourself and tells you the best decision and this was very enlightening for me.

Thank you for an inspiring and insightful time! I connected with how you approached a better way of thinking throughout my games. You opened up my eyes on the things I needed to improve and helped me immensely. The 90 minutes went by so fast, I can't wait for our next coaching session

My first session with Coach Leo is awesome. I recently climb very well but struggled due to the fact that my macro was a bit off, but I didn't know what my mistakes are in those game. Although my fundamental is quite good but he told me that I need to be more flexible in order to create impacts in the game. The way Coach Leo told me is very easy to understand and super effective. Looking forward to another session with Coach Leo. If you don't know what you are missing in the game, I highly recommend booking a session with him.

Auturgist

Patient and polite, Coach Leo was able to point out ways for me to more efficiently clear and gank. His language and use of visual aids helped me to better understand tempo and when I should be looking for ganks versus when I should just be clearing my camps.

southcoastjek

One session in and I can already feel the difference! No judgment, straight to the point with what is most readily achievable and will provide the best results in terms of improved gameplay in a quick timeframe. Would highly recommend and will be back again soon!

CK

Thanks Coach Leo for running the "biggest loss streak" contest and giving me a taste of the 1-1 coaching experience. As a new (about 1 year) and low-ELO player, I wasn't quite sure what a 1-1 session might look like. Coach Leo helped me set aside some of the more advanced topics (which might be important for an experienced/higher-ELO player who already has strong fundamentals) and focus on the most impactful things to work on in MY games. There are countless sources of information on League of Legends, but having him tailor my learnings for where I'm at in my own journey was great.

Leo tailored the meeting around my problems and goals. He identified my biggest problems and helped me to understand and avoid them in the future. Now I have to put in the games to implement them ☐ I will for sure be back
