

Vernisha Benson

SOSC105

Articulation Essay

Information Literacy, Technological Literacy, and Financial Literacy are all examples of Literacy Capabilities. With these capabilities, I will be prepared for the workplace and ready to display my workplace-readiness skills. Even though they all are a bit similar, they all have different meanings and different skills that they build. These Literacy Capabilities are the keys to success and the keys to having a great job. All three literacy's are very important for us to know and also very important for us to display.

Generally, Information Literacy is the ability to analyze information, and communicate it to other people who need it. With the knowledge of Information Literacy, it builds my workplace capabilities such as; communication, problem solving, tolerance, attitude, and interpersonal skills. With these skills, I am demonstrating that I can communicate information in a way that others will understand. This also includes being able to solve problems, being tolerant, having a positive attitude and as well as working and getting along with others. These skills are very important for me to display being that I want to become a homicide detective. Being a homicide detective, I will have to know how to communicate different information to different people as well as, solve cases, work with others, and be tolerant of the things that I have to deal with on a day to day basis, and also keeping a positive attitude through the toughest situations.

Furthermore, Financial Literacy is also a very important capability. It is knowing how to manage money and applying that knowledge to everyday life. Knowing how to manage my money will show employers that I am dependable and that they can rely on me to be responsible. It also builds the skill of problem solving. With Financial Literacy, I am able to solve the problem and understand the financial matters within the literacy. As a homicide detective, this literacy is important because I would have to have good credit, no bankruptcy, and I also have to be debt free. With good credit, no bankruptcy, and no debt I am showing them how responsible, reliable, and dependable I am.

Finally, Technological Literacy is the last Literacy Capability. It is the knowledge of knowing how to use technology in my career field. This literacy is very important when it comes to law enforcement. It builds the workplace capabilities of productivity, tolerance, and problem solving. In the Criminal Justice field, there is always technology. There are always new technology being produced. Technology is the best way for me to show how productive I am. Also, when it comes to new technology, I have to be tolerant, learn new things, solve the problems that I face while learning the new technology as well as persevering. In law enforcement, knowing how to use technology is very important and is a requirement. Being great at technology will help me succeed as a homicide detective.

In conclusion, these Literacy Capabilities will help me succeed and become successful. Knowing how to communicate information, manage my money, and use technology shows perseverance and it shows my strengths. After graduation, my plans are to get a job as a patrol officer then later become a homicide detective. I have always been drawn to the Criminal Justice field and I feel that there is no other career field that I will be successful in other than Criminal Justice. I plan to have a job after school, and show off my workplace capability skills and never give up on myself!