Well, in this Try Capillus Laser Cap Review you will learn about the latest innovation in hair loss treatment, called the Capillus Laser Therapy Cap for Hair Regrowth. The bottom line is all you need to do is wear this cap for a few minutes per day to stimulate new hair growth.

There are lots of reasons why you may be experiencing hair loss such as genetics, thyroid imbalance, side effect from certain medications, etc. After reading this review you will gain better insight about this product and whether you'll want to pursue it.

What is Capillus?

Capillus, the company behind the Capillus Hair Cap, offers products catering to both women and men struggling with thinning hair. The Capillus hat is a personal LLLT (low level laser therapy) cap that utilizes safe low level lasers to stimulate hair growth and prevent hair loss. LLLT or laser therapy is not a new technology but has been around for years and with proper use has been shown to strengthen hair follicles thus producing all-natural healthy hair from the inside out.

Capillus has designed for LLLT therapy to be designed inside a hat which makes it easy for anyone to receive treatment. The Capillus hat is to be worn for 6 minutes per day everyday for maximum effectiveness.

Does Capillus Regrow Hair?

Capillus laser therapy using the LLLT technologies has the potential to significantly improve the health of the hair follicle. This results in healthier hair follicles which lead to a fuller and more natural looking head of hair.

Over the course of 6 months to a year if used as directed you should see some results. You should notice new hair growth and a slowing down of hair loss. You will need to be patient and be committed to the process as it will take time. Hair regrowth in clinical trials was 51% more hair in 17 weeks. Over 95% of active clinical study participants had increase in hair counts within 17 weeks. So, if you're asking the question, "Does Capillus work?" The answer is yes.
