Angie's Crochet Corner- My name is Aungsutorn or Angie. I am originally from Thailand, moving to NC from Fairbanks, Alaska. I crochet handmade plushies, keychains and other small items. I have been crocheting since the summer of 2023 and love that I am able to bring smiles and joy through my handmade works. I enjoy crocheting amigurumi using soft and plush yarns. Most of my handmade pieces are animals ranging from sea creatures to mythological dragons to small cute items like keychains and car charms.	Instagram Etsy
Coffeelibrium Roasters- At Coffeelibrium Roasters, we are passionate artisans dedicated to the craft of specialty coffee. We source premium green beans from origins like Colombia, Ethiopia, and Kenya, and roast each batch to highlight its unique flavor. Our mission is to deliver an exceptional cup—from farm to bag to brew—while fostering sustainable, transparent relationships. We also believe in education: sharing knowledge about coffee origins, roasting, brewing methods, and sustainability to help our community better understand and enjoy every cup.	Instagram

Gabor Farms - We are not a big farm, but we have a big heart and big ideas on making food accessible, affordable and exciting. We farm on three locations in Richmond County, NC. Our primary location hosts our mushroom grow rooms which consist of 40' temperature controlled shipping containers, and our sterile lab which is housed in a separate building complete with classroom setting. We grow vegetables in open fields, caterpillar tunnels and are rebuilding our hydroponic greenhouse this fall. Our seedlings get their start on a heat mat then spend 1-2 weeks in the nutrient rich channels where they get their initial boost and growth. Normally we pot and sell from this stage to other growers, but have been experimenting with other methods this year, including placing plant cuttings in our mushroom grow room to enhance and speed up root growth. This week: Mushrooms, eggplants, peaches, blueberries	Website Instagram Facebook
Green Dot Dyes - Green Dot Dyes specializes in functional art, using ice-dye, tie-dye, batik, and shibori techniques to create a wide variety of home goods, apparel, and décor. We start with natural plant-fiber fabrics (most often cotton, bamboo, linen, or rayon) and quality blanks, then tie and dye our work by hand using high-quality ingredients (soda ash, Procion dyes, professional textile detergent) with consistent attention to detail, ensuring that everything we offer is well-made, durable, and colorfast. Our handsewn collection showcases our custom-dyed fabric with a mix of vintage and original patterns, and we upcycle the fabric scraps from those pieces into magnets, ornaments, and other one-of-a-kind gifts. Hasena Farms - At Hasena Farms, we grow Japanese and Asian vegetables, herbs, and cut flowers on our small family-run farm in Efland, NC. Over the past year, we've been proud to share our harvest weekly at Western Wake Farmers Market, growing alongside our community and learning what truly belongs on the table. Each crop we raise carries a story rooted in tradition, memory, and curiosity for new flavors. We farm thoughtfully and sustainably and believe good, honest ingredients have the power to connect people and brighten everyday meals. We hope to see you at the market! This week: Japanese eggplants, white eggplants, okra, Japanese green peppers, shishito, hot peppers, cucumbers, bitter melons, basil, shiso, (no lettuce this week)	Website Instagram

Just Like in Italy- Meet Chef Patrik, the heart and soul behind Just Like in Italy:

Growing up in Turin (Torino), in northern Italy, I was raised in a family where great food wasn't just a passion—it was our way of life. As restaurateurs, my family taught me that authentic Italian cuisine is about tradition, love, and bringing people together.

My culinary journey has taken me from Spain to France to the USA, but one thing has remained constant: my commitment to authenticity. Whether I'm creating a mouthwatering dessert, crafting Italian focaccia, or preparing savory treats, I'm sharing a piece of my heritage, a taste of my homeland, a moment of pure Italian joy. That's why I named my business "Just Like in Italy"—because I want you to experience that same magic I felt in my family's kitchen in Turin.

Today, I bring these authentic Italian flavors to the Triangle area through premier markets, restaurants, and straight to you. True Italian cuisine isn't just about the recipe—it's about creating moments of happiness, one delicious bite at a time. Taste the difference that passion, tradition, and authenticity make. Enjoy delicious treats Just Like in Italy.

Kalawi Farm- Kalawi Farm is a fourth generation peach farm that has strong family roots. Jan Williams grew up on a peach farm. Her father and grandfather were peach growers as well. Jan married Art Williams. After teaching for 10 years, she decided to go back to her roots. In 1985 Jan and Art started the business of Kalawi Farm and named it after their first three children: Ka-for their oldest Katie, La- for their second daughter Laura and Wi- for their third child Will. In 1991, the Ice Cream Shop was opened and named after their fourth child Ben. Will and Ben now help us manage the farm. We look forward to seeing our customers each year from near and far!

Redbud Organic Farm- Redbud Farm, owned and managed by Clay Smith and Nancy Joyner, began in 2009 to grow a wide variety of vegetables and herbs. It is located in Alamance County on the land where Clay grew up on a family farm that has been owned by the family since 1945. From the beginning of Redbud Farm, organic practices were used, and the farm has been certified organic since the summer of 2009. Redbud Farm is fortunate to be one of the original vendors at Western Wake Farmers Market, selling produce since May 2009. The opportunity to build relationships with customers, watch children grow over the years, and enjoy the community at WWFM is a great experience. Clay and Nancy enjoy the direct contact with people at the market and providing individuals and families with organic, local, flavorful, fresh food. This week: Tomatoes, cherry/grape tomatoes, okra, cucumbers, peppers, eggplant, potatoes, squash, zucchini	Website Instagram Facebook

Zephyr Family Farm- We focus on two main things when choosing what we grow. First and foremost we love Southern heirlooms! We grow several that are special to our family history and we enjoy sharing those connections. Whether you're from the south or not, we think it's really cool to eat a veggie that's been loved here for generations. Second, we focus on crops that help us adapt to the climate crisis. We seek out crops that can handle these changes and help us feed folks as we try to deal with this emergency. It also pushes us to learn about the wider plant world and other peoples culinary traditions. A plant might be new to me, but it's not "new". When I learn about a plant my goal is to center their traditional connections as we make new ones.

All the work on the farm is done by us (our three kids and dog are there for emotional support, lol). We currently have just under an acre in production, with another half acre in cover crop. We use only sustainable practices on our farm and passed our Certified Naturally Grown inspection in 2022. For us, sustainability looks like building soil health by reducing tillage practices to a minimum, using cover crops and crop rotation practices to manage weeds, pests and diseases, and using natural fertilizers, pesticides and herbicides very sparingly. We also constantly evaluate our practices to see where we can reduce the use of plastics and fossil fuels.

This week: Heirloom red okra, marigold bouquets, Lagos spinach & more summer favorites
