

J Miguel

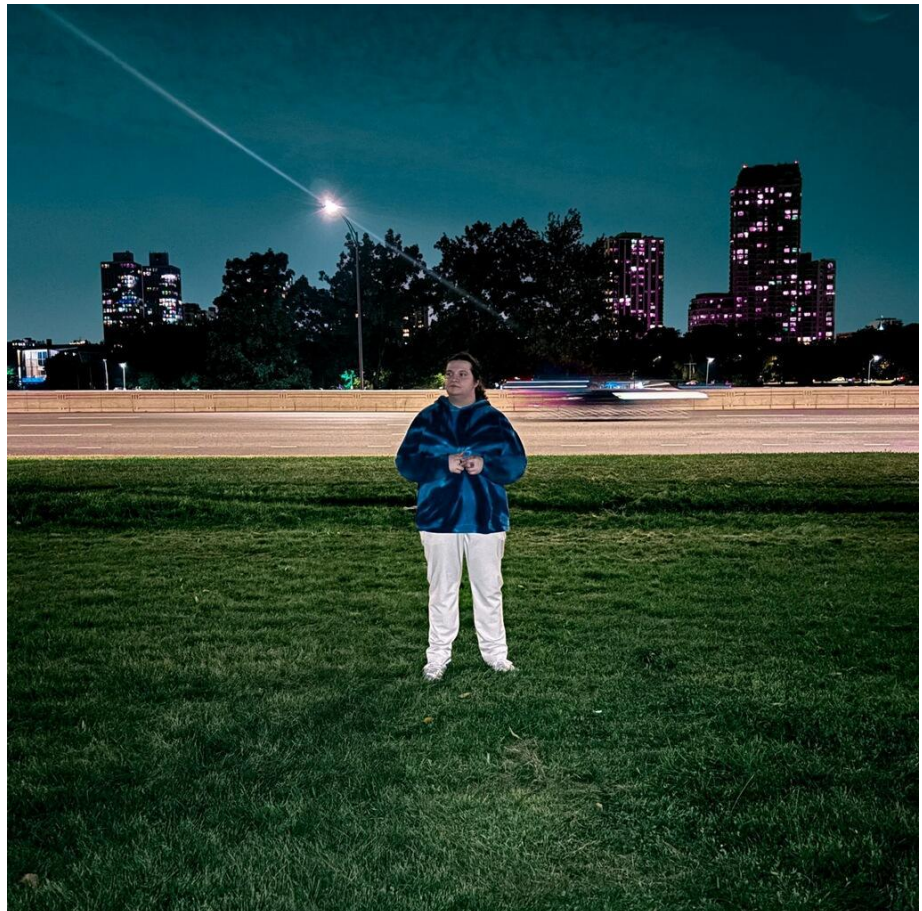

Bio

Of Guatemalan descent, Chicago born and raised artist J Miguel blends pop, indie, R&B, and Latin influences into a sound that feels both intimate and cinematic. Raised in a bilingual household surrounded by classical, rock, and folk traditions, he found his voice through the emotion of jazz ensembles and liturgical choirs. His music explores transformation, love, loss, and rebirth—each song unfolding like a diary entry from a soul in motion. Through atmospheric production and heartfelt lyricism, J Miguel invites listeners into a world where vulnerability becomes strength and nostalgia meets hope. Whether writing in English, Spanish, or Spanglish, he crafts songs that transcend language, resonating with anyone chasing light through the shadows.

J Miguel Brings Renewal and Reflection with His New Single “A Cool Breeze”

Chicago, IL — September 22, 2025 — Of Guatemalan descent, Chicago born and raised artist J Miguel returns with “A Cool Breeze,” a soulful track that closes out summer on a note of peace, clarity, and transformation. Blending gentle guitars, smooth rhythms, and bilingual lyricism, the song captures the feeling of release after a long storm — a reminder that healing can arrive softly, like the wind that ushers in a new season.

Written after a moment of unexpected clarity, “A Cool Breeze” symbolizes a turning point in J Miguel’s journey — both artistically and personally. Known for merging pop, indie, R&B, and Latin influences into an atmospheric, cinematic sound, J Miguel continues to expand his sonic palette while staying rooted in emotion and honesty.

“This song came from a moment where everything finally felt still,” says J Miguel. “After months of searching, I found peace not by escaping the chaos, but by embracing it — and letting it breathe out through the music.”

A Cool Breeze follows the introspective path J Miguel has been crafting through his evolving body of work, bridging themes of transformation, love, and rebirth. The single feels like the first inhale after the storm — calm, reflective, and deeply reflective.
