

Trainer Biography

Kate Lorenz

Entrepreneur, Executive Coach and Public Speaker

Kate Lorenz is an entrepreneur, executive coach, and experienced public speaker with over two decades of international business and leadership experience. As the founder and former Managing Director of Ark International, she built a China-based relocation and real estate business from a modest $10,000 investment into a multi-million-dollar enterprise operating across 20+ locations. Under her leadership, the company became an award-winning market leader in destination services and was successfully acquired by a global industry leader in 2018—an achievement that underscores her commercial acumen, strategic vision, and operational excellence.

A compelling and engaging public speaker, Kate has spent over 15 years delivering high-impact training and facilitating sessions on leadership, intercultural collaboration, and team performance. Drawing on her lived experience across Asia, the Middle East, Africa, and Europe, she brings real-world insight, practical frameworks, and relatable storytelling to every stage. She has coached and trained hundreds of senior leaders across industries including finance, government, luxury, and FMCG, earning multiple global training awards.
