AILA EOIR Immigration Court Tracker

Colorado- Aurora

Colorado Chapter EOIR Liaisons

[Last Updated July 22, 2020]

| EOIR's Reported Historical Operational Status | AILA Notes |
|---|---|
| | Denverite: COVID measures have made immigrant detentions longer and more isolated – June 29, 2020 |
| | NAIJ The National Association of Immigration Judges Urgently Calls for Immediate Implementation of Required Health and Safety Measures for the Immigration Courts During the Coronavirus Pandemic (3/30/2020)● "From West Coast to East Coast, court after court has had to grapple with incident reports of COVID-19 exposure or positive test results of staff and the public. Examples include the Los Angeles, San Francisco, Aurora (Colorado), Elizabeth (New Jersey), Varick (New York), Krome (South Florida), Seattle, Conroe (Texas), LaSalle (Louisiana), Fishkill (New York), Ulster (New York), Boston, Newark, and San Antonio Immigration Courts." |
| | Westword reporter Conor McCormick-Cavanagh tweeted on March 27, 2020, at 10:14 am (ET) "It's past 8 a.m. local time in Colorado and the Aurora immigration court is still listed as closed. So it's safe to say, the court is closed today, for a second day in a row." |
| EOIR announced via Twitter on March 25, 2020, at 5:49 pm (ET) that "As a precautionary measure, the Aurora, Baltimore, and La Salle immigration courts will be closed tomorrow." | |
| EOIR announced via Twitter on March 19, 2020, at 2:30 pm (ET) that "Due to inclement weather, the Aurora Immigration Court will be closing four hours early today, March 19." | Westword reporter Conor McCormick-Cavanagh tweeted on March 19, 2020 at 2:32 pm (ET) "Aurora, Colorado immigration court closing for snow. But aside from weather closure, it's remaining open, even though unions representing immigration lawyers, judges, and ICE prosecutors are asking for |

| | |
|---|---|
| | this court and others to be shut down temporarily to limit spread of COVID-19.” |