

RULES

0.) I don't lie. I am a strong believer in Karma (If you do good things to people, good things will happen to you and vice versa.) Please take what I say as fact and that's the end of the story.

1.) No longer sending outside US. Sorry, but some people have been complaining that Pojo Rules > My Rules, but when sending outside US, You're sending first. Thus, I am taking this out. My first three trades on Pojo were all out-of-US scammers. If you have negative references you are sending first.

2.) You are allowed to back out of a trade the day of, but if you back out after it's confirmed, this will get you a negative ref.

2.5.) What is on this thread is what is on this thread. Before confirming each trade it is YOUR responsibility to confirm what you are trading/selling/buying, and what you are getting in return.

3.) Pojo Rules = Law. This includes Pojo's "All cards traded must be Mint/Near Mint unless otherwise specified." rule.

3.5.) Please ship cards in sleeves and/or toploaders to prevent harm. Prevention of Damages are your responsibility.

4.) Prices taken from Yugiohmint.com, Tcgplayer, or other credible sources.

5.) If we do a mod trade, you have to pay for both sides, including postage costs.
