Hi [[firstname]] --

Do you know how many self-growth programs I get to see every week?

Literally dozens.

I always have someone sending me a program they think will help enhance people's lives. (And earn them a little cash too.)

Much of the time, these programs just rehash the same old material. They aren't useful. And so I don't bother wasting your time with them.

But last week I stumbled across something that really caught my attention.

It's an audio meditation program that uses special "brainwave" sounds to actually meditate for you.

That's right -- it meditates FOR YOU.

Seriously!

I tried it. And honestly? I was amazed.

There are no rules, no tricky sitting positions, no headphones. Just hit play and listen. The MP3 does all the work for you. It calms the mind and body, then takes you down into a deep meditative state.

The result?

Instant relaxation, greater stress relief, mood improvement and a sharp mind that really feels in 'The Zone.' All absolutely without effort.

I loved this so much, I had to share it.

The program is called Zen12.

And if you click on this special link, you'll get to preview Level 1 for yourself -- at NO cost:
