

AllGoFree University - Chapter One

Alex glanced around the room nervously. He didn't know any of the people in this classroom, heck he had never even been in this classroom before. "I wish I was back in my hometown" thought Alex; why did his parents have to switch towns? Alex's mind drifted away from this thought as he stared blankly at the wall. He didn't know how much time had passed since he had begun staring at the wall, but the next thing he experienced was the teacher calling his name repeatedly. "Alex, Alex, are you okay?" asked the teacher. "Yeah, I'm fine" replied Alex. "I guess I just zoned out for a bit". This was a common occurrence for Alex, but he didn't think much of it. School wasn't his top priority, but he did his best to get by. He really wanted to hit up the skate park after school, but his friend Aiden was still in rehab. He was on his way to his locker to grab his box of cheerios for lunch when he bumped into her. He didn't even realize what had happened at first, he just saw his locker and then bam, he bumped into her. Her books fell to the floor, and Alex immediately felt a sense of guilt. "Sorry about that" muttered Alex, as he picked up the girl's books and gently handed them to her. "I'm a bit of a klutz" said Alex. "Its no problem" said the girl, as she continued on her way to class. "Man, she was pretty cute", thought Alex, and his mind wandered to a place where he and the girl would be together. "Alex, yo Alex, what the hell are you thinking about now?" asked Kevin. "Huh?" said Alex. "You had that look on your face again dude; C'mon, we have to get to lunch so you can get your chocolate milk." said Kevin. The pair walked to the cafeteria, where they noticed a student arguing with the lunch lady. "Why did you give me the smallest possible slice of pizza? That guy there has a slice twice as big as mine! If I ran this place, every single slide of pizza would be exactly the same freaking size." said the student. "Everything would be perfect!" continued the student as he walked away angrily. "Wow, Danny is off to a good start today!" said

Kevin sarcastically. Him and Alex went and sat down at the usual table, where Ryan was already sitting, typing quickly on his laptop. "What the hell are you working on now Ryan?" asked Alex. "Its an app to count how many people have been with your mom" said Ryan sarcastically. Alex stared at him with the most intense glare and Kevin busted up laughing, and high-fived Ryan as him and Alex joined him at the table. "Where the hell is Bill?" asked Kevin. "It feels like he hasn't been to lunch in weeks man" said Alex. "I haven't seen him either, I think he has been going to Chipotle for lunch recently" said Ryan. "Every freaking day?" asked Kevin. "Yup, I think so" replied Ryan, as Danny sat down at the table. "Do you see the size of this fucking pizza slice?" asked Danny. "Its like they were high while cutting the damn thing" muttered Danny as he took a bite out of the pizza. "Well maybe..." started Alex; "shut the fuck up Alex" interrupted Danny. Alex sat there and started to stare at the wall again. "So did you guys hear the big news?" asked Ryan. "No, what happened?" asked Danny.

To be continued...