

Halcyon City's adjectives

- Vivid
- Messy
- Potent/ial

Compasses

- Supervillains (bea)
- Rivals (Danni)

Districts

Boswell Park

A stripe of greenery running through the heart of the city.

- Reputation: Kinda nice but a bit pointless, people will visit there when the weather is nice but otherwise not really thought about much.
- True Name: Lonely food carts, ducks in the lake, shade in the summer.

Starlight District

The (spiritual) home of Halcyon City's extraterrestrial immigrant community.

- Reputation: Otherworldly, a true melting pot, kaleidoscopic, some friction but a real sense of community.
- True Name: An avalanche of exciting smells, a sense of belonging, the best food you've never heard of.
- Landmark: The Galaxy Strip, a space exploration-themed diner popular with teens. Address: Corner of Hope[St.] and Dreams[Blvd.] True Name: Bottomless Noodles, The Place to Be, Known for Customizable Noodle Bar, Goofy but charming mementos of home.
  - Resident: Pops (he/they). Primary line cook at Galaxy Strip, a moth/mantis alien with four arms and battered wings. True Name: Peaceful puzzler and soda pop fan.
- Landmark: The Superhero Museum. Details to be determined in later episodes...

Phoenix Academy

A floating academy training powered youth from across the world.

- Reputation: Pinnacle of Education. A source of incredible hopes and undefined dangers.
- True Name: Comforting Order, Beautiful Chaos, Nest of New Beginnings.
- Landmark: The Dominion Dome, the school's arena. Address: Where the Sports Happen. True Name: featureless white sphere, adaptable inside to allow a variety of sports, homoerotic subtext.

Hazard Engine

A giant robot once piloted against the city, now disarmed and used for housing, entertainment, meeting places and more.

- Reputation: Inventive, Gritty, Lots of neon, nooks and crannies, tech you can make something out of.
- True Name: The smell of machinery, a dimly lit bar, a claustrophobic liberty
- Location: The Bridge, the robot's old control centre now used for municipal council meetings. Address: In the robot's head. True Name: An awesome view, the weight of responsibility.
  - Resident: Malcontent (she/her). Filtered voice, sharp suits, hidden identity, energy absorption powers. True name: Driven, wanting to live up to her potential, first graduating class of phoenix academy.
- Location: The Grinder. Scummy, grimy, brutal. Address: Upper Left Arm Sector A. True Name: A man getting punched out by a much bigger man, a man getting punched out by a much smaller man, two heavy-duty mech suits revving their weapons, a greasy bucket of fried chicken, an audience screaming over blaring music

Civic Centre

The seat of Halcyon City's government and home to its fanciest museums and galleries.

- Reputation: Oldest part of town, seat of government, stuffy.
- True Name: A valley of bureaucracy, the quiet of power, a lack of food options.

Events

First Event: Paying his respects, Pops sees his old rival Neutron Annie, no older than the day of the Event.

- Opinion: The people who have actually seen these echoes don't talk about it.
- Consequence: Old wounds reopen as people start to search for those long thought missing.
- Question: Are these echoes people trapped in a phantom dimension trying to get out, or snapshots only visible a few times a year?
- Consequence: Pops gets Annie's raygun out of his closet and has decided to try and find her.
- 2nd Perspective: It's not only heroes that are showing back up.

Second Event: Civball! Zoning debates over zoning slow to a crawl so city hall breaks for a 'friendly' game of civball, as is traditional in Halcyon City since the Silver Age.

- Consequence: Malcontent does well and garners support.
- Consequence: It's a fun game, but City Hall catches on fire a little bit.
- Opinion: It's time for us to put Civball away, it's getting too rowdy.
- Opinion: If we put Civball away, any goodwill left in city hall will die.
- 2nd Perspective: Malcontent shrewdly used civball to draw public attention to the affordable housing debates in city hall.
