

Attention, Orthodox Choir Directors:

If your choir sounds more folk/pop/gospel/opera than Orthodox...

If your choir sounds anything but prayerful...

*If you just can't achieve that elusive prayerful, distinctly Orthodox sound

Discover what you can do today to help your choir sing well enough for an Orthodox divine service.

Find out what Vladimir Gorbik reveals about achieving Orthodox sound in the choir loft in this exclusive training.

Vladimir Gorbik is:

- Chief Conductor at the Tikhvin Icon Church in Moscow
- Former Chief Conductor at the Holy Trinity St Sergius Lavra
- Professor of conducting at the Moscow State Conservatory
- Artistic Director and Chief Conductor at the Moscow Capital Symphony Orchestra
- And the first Grammy-nominated Orthodox choir director in the world!

You will discover:

- the secrets to achieving a prayerful Orthodox sound
- secrets that allow even directors without musical education to achieve better sound than "professionals"
- secrets that made Gorbik a Grammy nominee - secrets that you can use with your choir today!

And much more!

You'll be able to use these secret techniques even if you don't have any musical education.
